Princeton's Favorite Drink: Scotch? Bourbon? Gin? It's Vodka

"Ten years ago," says Elmer Stout, head bartender at the Nassau Inn, "we wouldn't have sold any vodka at all if it weren't for the Bloody Mary." Ten years ago vodka was also a slow mover on the shelves of Princeton liquor dealers.

Ten years ago vodka was a great drink for people who didn't really want to drink -- they could mix it with tomato juice or orange juice and nurse their Bloody Marys or screwdrivers while the real drinkers were knocking down bourbon or Scotch.

Today, vodka is the biggest selling liquor in town. An informal survey of Princeton liquor stores, restaurants and bars shows that vodka and vodka drinks have surged in popularity in just the past few years. In the current recession, which is just beginning to dampen the spirits of Princeton liquor dealers and bartenders, vodka sales have remained high.

"The real drinkers," says Walter Kreig of the Alchemist and Barrister, "want vodka. And what a lot of them really want is vodka on the rocks, except they don't like to call it that."

Why vodka?

Everyone has his own explanation. The one cited most often is that vodka, a clear Russian liquor distilled from potatoes, has no odor or taste. Because it's odorless, or nearly odorless, vodka is a perfect drink for those who don't want others to know they've been drinking. They may not always escape detection, but they have a good chance.

"I can smell vodka within a half hour of the time it's been drunk," says Chuck Swain of the Peacock Inn, where sales of vodka drinks have gone "up and up and up." Mr. Stout of the Nassau Inn says he can smell the cheap brands of vodka, but "a good vodka is very hard to detect."

Because it's tasteless, says Ben Levine of Claridge Liquors in the Princeton Shopping Center, vodka is the most flexible liquor. "you can substitute it for gin in practically any gin drink." The taste, or lack of it, may also be a factor that has made vodka the number one selling liquor among Lahiere diners.

Bartender Joseph Wojcichosky explains: "Wine drinkers usually prefer a dry drink before dinner, a vodka or gin martini for example. And our wine business has grown tremendously in the last five years." Lahiere's wine cellar used to hold about 1,000 bottles, with 50 different labels. Today it is filled with about 18,000 bottles, 240 different labels. In that same period vodka has become the best-selling liquor, just ahead of gin.

Another reason for vodka's popularity: "It's just supposed to be easy on your stomach," says Bill Racis of the Cellar on Nassau Street.

Ed Clohossey of Cousins Liquors on Palmer Square, where vodka sales were up 40% just last year, says that the final distillation of vodka is through charcoal filters. "That takes the congeners out. Those are the chemical impurities—the things that might give you a headache if they weren't removed," says Mr. Clohossey.

To your health. You can drink vodka and mean it, at least in the sense that it isn't as bad for you as some liquors are.

Mr. Clohossey also has another theory. "Vodka is preferred by women," he says. "The trend has been led by women."

Vodka has one other clear advantage over other liquors, as Arch Browne of Wine and Game points out. "It's the least expensive," he says. "A good fifth of vodka runs about $5.50. Bourbon is about $7, and Scotch goes for $8.50."

Because it requires no aging, vodka is also more profitable for liquor producers even though it is priced less than other liquors. Nationally, distillers have been rushing to get in on the profits.

In 1958, sales of vodka were only 5.3 million cases. By 1973 Americans were consuming 22.5 million cases. Bourbon, the liquor native to America and traditionally the country's favorite liquor, increased its volume from 20.6 million

OPEN MEETINGS?

Movement Grows. Opening the executive sessions of public bodies to the public itself seems to be a growing possibility in Princeton. The idea is being pushed chiefly by Robert Hosford, 430 Terhune Road, who has been interested most recently in the way the Township's capital budget was hammered out.

Mr. Hosford, who has been prodding the Planning Board, too, brought up the whole question once again at Monday night's Township Committee meeting. He told Committee he's interested, not so much in specific issues, as in the rationale behind decisions.

He reminded Committee once again of Assembly Bill 1030, the "Open Public Meetings" bill now in the New Jersey legislative machinery. The bill, which had its introduction and second reading in October 29, hasn't moved since. It would open work sessions and executive meetings to the public. Last month, a Township resident was admitted to both a site-plan review board meeting and a meeting of the Planning Board's sub-division committee. Mr. Hosford told Committee. He reported that Hans K. Sander, Planning Board chairman, says the board is considering opening its own executive sessions to the public.

"Why not Committee?" Mr. Hosford prodded.

Bleiman's Viewpoint. "I have no problem here, in opening the continuing discussion of on-going items that are not involved with personnel, or personal sensitivity," remarked Mayor Jay Bleiman.

He explained that Committee is a body in which executive, legislative and judicial functions are combined, and he pointed out that the proposed state law exempts the governor--hence, the "executive"--from the open-meeting requirement.

He added that, under some kinds of open meeting legislation, it might not even be lawful for him to have lunch with another Committee member to discuss Committee business.

"More public knowledge has been given undue emphasis," said William Cherry, from the

Woman's Nose and Four Teeth Are Broken During Purse-Snatching on Avalon Place

Two women were brutally punched and had their purses snatched within a half-hour of each other on Monday. Reacting to this latest act of violence in the community, police chief Michael Carnevale said that he was very much concerned about the physical injury inflicted on the victims.

At 6:35 p.m., Ptl. Robert Mucciarelli responded to a call from a woman reporting that a young girl had just been beaten in the new parking lot at the YMCA on Avalon Place. Investigating, he learned that a 21-year old Cream Ridge resident had been approached by two men.

They opened the door of her sports car, dragged her out and punched her in the face, knocking her to the ground. They then fled with her patterned pocketbook. Inside was a red leather wallet containing $250.

The victim was taken to Princeton Medical Center where she was treated for a bruken nose and four broken teeth. Det. Timothy Huizing is continuing the investigation.

Just a short time earlier, at 6:01, Ptl. Mucciarelli and Sgt. Thomas Michaud had investigated an attack on a Township woman.

Police report that the victim was walking on Shirley Court when she was approached by a man. He punched her in the face twice and demanded her wallet. Police said the victim then handed over her wallet containing $34.

She was treated at the Medical Center for contusions of the left eye and lacerations of the mouth. Det. Huizing is also continuing the investigation of this attack.

Police declined to release any description of the suspects. However, Capt. Theodore Lewis commented that considering the short period of time between the attacks and the similar beating the two could be related. "The pattern is the same," he said.

audience. Cloak-room deals, private telephone conversations and back-room bargaining would not be eliminated by open-meeting legislation, he observed.

The mayor said Committee would want to synchronize its decision on open executive sessions with the Planning Board. He warned Mr. Hosford that, if such meetings were opened, the public would be allowed only to sit and listen, not to participate.

HOLD THE LINE?

Borough Still Hopes So. "I'm quietly optimistic that there will be no increase in the local tax rate," Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said again this week.

He smilingly refused to tell his Tuesday press conference just what specific cuts might be made in the $2.9 million Administrator's Budget which Council has been hewing away on for some weeks. However, he did say that the Borough will have fewer special engineering projects than in many years.

He wouldn't say anything about possible Borough salary increases, either, but he did say that a salary increase of only 1 percent would mean $10,000 or $11,000 in the budget--slightly more than one tax point ($9,800).

In order to find the money for salary increases, the mayor pointed out, a great deal will have to be cut from the Administrator's Budget. That budget had projected a local purpose tax of $1.05. The present local purpose tax, which Mayor Cawley and Council hope to keep, is 97 cents.

The formal budget will be introduced at a brief special Council session next Monday at 5 p.m. in Borough Hall.

ASKS FOR WATER

Armed Robbery Follows. A Franklin Avenue man was robbed of $52 Sunday by a couple who first knocked on his door at 1 o'clock in the morning to ask for a glass of water.

Police report that after a woman knocked at that time to ask for a drink, the owner opened the door. She was followed inside by a man, who, police said, used a sharp instrument to cut the victim's thumb. He was also punched in the stomach. Police added that the victim did not report the incident until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon when he called and asked to see a policeman.

The woman was described as white with short blonde hair. She was wearing blue jeans. The man was described as black, wearing blue jeans with a large Afro hair-style and earrings. Ptl. David Alston investigated.

Capt. Theodore Lewis urged residents not to open their doors to strangers, especially late at night or in the early morning hours.

in 1958 to 25.5 million in 1973.

Most industry experts now believe that vodka has caught and passed bourbon in the sales race. That certainly is the case in Princeton, where vodka sales have outdistanced Scotch and bourbon at many establishments.

Dubonnet on Upswing. Vodka, though, has not been the only gainer in the stocks of liquor dealers and restaurateurs. Maybe because it has become known as the drink of Nelson Rockefeller, dubonnet—most order it on the rocks—has become a popular drink in the past year.

Al Hoehle of Nassau Liquors, next to the Suburban Transit station, reports that sales of tequila are up 1,000 percent over a year ago.

Sloe gin and cointreau products are also picking up in volume at Nassau Liquors, though wine there remains the big seller. "We should be called 'Nassau Wines' because we cater to wine drinkers," says Mr. Hoehle. Nassau "Liquors" has 1,700 different labels of wine on its floor.

Squirrels and Birds. Mr. Stout says that the gin martini is probably still the best selling

Hear Them Cry-But Watch 'Em Buy

Is the liquor industry recession-proof? Not quite, according to Princeton distributors and bartenders.

No, people don't stop drinking when money gets tight, and yes, maybe some people even drink a little more. But the general trend seems to be in favor of the cheaper brand or the private label instead of the top-shelf liquor.

"Sales are down a little right now," says Bill Racis of the Cellar. "Of course, January and February are traditionally slow months in our business—that's when people get their holiday bills. And we can't hold a white sale."

Though most individuals are drinking their limits, some institutional buyers did not produce their typical holiday orders. A construction company and an industrial firm that usually buy several cases of liquor at Christmas for holiday gifts both eliminated that item from their budgets this year.

Steve Eory of Varsity says that people in his store are turning to the lower priced labels, $12 a half gallon of scotch instead of $19, for example, and "they're finding they like those brands just as well." The bar business at the Nassau Inn is down in quantity and in terms of the quality of liquor ordered, according to Elmer Stout. Ben Levine of Claridge Liquors notices some of his customers buying fifths instead of their usual quarts.

No one, though, is likely to be driven out of business by the recession. As Al Hoehle of Nassau Liquors says: "When the gasoline price goes up, people don't take their cars off the road. They cry, but they buy."

drink at the Nassau Inn, though the younger drinkers are coming in with orders for a variety of more exotic requests: pink squirrels, made with creme de noya, creme de cacao and sweet cream; harvey wallbangers-galliano, orange juice and, once again, vodka; and yellow birds, the same as a wallbanger except rum is substituted for the galliano.

Over at Wine and Game, Dave Frothingham, a partner, every so often senses that a relatively obscure liquor is about to take off. He has that feeling now about DuPerrier aperitif. Two regular charge customers now buy the bulk of it, but several walk-ins have begun asking for it. Could it be another galliano or dubonnet or even vodka?

Who knows. Drinkers' habits are wholly unpredictable. Walter Krieg, the former chemist who runs the Alchemist and Barrister, notices drinking habits shifting in response to national advertising campaigns. For a while last year, magazine advertisements pushed the tequila sunrise—orange juice, grenadine and tequila.

Sure enough, customers began walking into the Witherspoon Street restaurant and bar and ordering tequila sunrises.

"Poor" Taste. "A lot of things are just fads," says Steve Eory of Varsity Liquors on Nassau Street. "For a while everyone was drinking cold duck. Then the young people wanted Boone's Farm. Now they seem to be buying the less expensive table wines." Nick Armenante, the bartender at the Alchemist and Barrister, observes that some drinkers are unable to taste the difference in liquors. One man who came in every day and ordered bourbon one day was served rye by mistake. He didn't realize it until the bartender apologized. "It went down real smooth," the customer said.

Many drinkers of vodka martinis would settle for vodka on the rocks, according to Mr. Krieg. "When someone comes in here and orders a dry vodka martini we turn around, face Italy, and say 'Vermouth.'" Then we fill the glass up with vodka. A lot of people still say that even one or two drops are too much vermouth.

Just a week ago, though, Mr. Krieg was thrown for a jolt. A customer came in and ordered a martini, and then asked for more vermouth. "I couldn't believe it," says Mr. Krieg. "This guy said he liked the taste of vermouth. It had never happened before."

Behind the bar at the Nassau Inn, Elmer Stout would not have been surprised.

"Heck, 28 years ago, when I first started working here," he recalls, "a martini was supposed to be half vermouth and half vodka or gin. Of course, that's not the way it is today."

OFFICE BUILDING? The stately old Merston house at 159 Nassau, across the street from Nassau Interiors, is now owned by Princeton University. Plans call for converting the house to professional office space. Too expensive to renovate for residential purposes, University officials say. The house was the home of the late Irving W. Merston, secretary of the old Borough Board of Education for many years.

plans to sub-divide and build division provided drainage on the empty lots. No action had been taken by the board at press time.

Sin Cheng, 379 Prospect, told the board a retention pond would cost one-fourth less than the estimated $50,000 required for culverts. He said that he and his neighbor, John Brennaman, 389 Prospect, would contribute 5,000 square feet toward such a pond.

A Planning Board sub-division committee recommends granting the sub-

ANNA LEWIS WINS CASE Against Rescue Squad.
Anna Lewis, 41 Fisher Ave., can now join the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad if she wants to. She was informed last week that the state's Civil Rights Division has found she was the victim of "unlawful discrimination" when the Squad refused her membership because she is a woman.

Squads like Princeton's are subject to the same laws that apply to volunteer fire departments, the Civil Rights hearing examiner, David Ben Asher ruled. Furthermore, he said, they are not private clubs, but are "employers" and their volunteers, "employees."

To Ms. Lewis' surprise, she was awarded $100 in damages for "humiliation, pain and mental suffering" caused by her rejection. She'd never asked for anything like that.

"It's lovely to win," she said.

But will she join? She's now a member of the East Windsor First Aid and Rescue Squad, and a member of the nursing staff at a nursing home in Hightston, so she may shrug off her victory.

Princeton's First Aid Squad hasn't yet announced whether it will appeal.

The Weather Man agrees, reporting that snow is a possibility both Wednesday and Thursday. A scant four inches so far this winter, which still has better than six weeks to run, according to both the calendar and Brother Hog.

Nothing like the old fashioned winters is likely, however. The long-range forecast for the balance of February calls for temperatures to run above average and precipitation below normal. Still, it takes only a half inch of rain to provide about six inches of snow.

He became Dean of Faculty at Mills College while taking a law degree at the University of California at Berkeley.

The Edge Lectureship in Public and International Affairs was founded in 1957 by the family of the former N.J. Governor and U.S. Senator. The lectureship has brought such men as French President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing, economist John Kenneth Galbraith, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, and physicist Edward Teller to speak at Princeton.

THREE STORES ENTERED

In Princeton Shopping Center. Three stores were entered between 9 and 11:25 Friday evening in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Seventy-five dollars were stolen from a cash register in Young Ages of Princeton and three coats removed from a rack. Total value: $150. Ptl. David Wilbur discovered that the front door had been pried open.

While making a routine check, Ptl. Peter Savalli discovered that the rear door of Home Decor had been pried and approximately $5 in quarters removed from a register. Police said nothing else was taken.

A front door was forced to enter the East Gate Gift Shop where $10 was taken from a register. The thefts were investigated by Det. Samuel Bianco. Chief Frederick Porter said that he "strongly urged all merchants to leave no money in their registers and to leave them open so one can see that they are open."

Two Lose Pocketbooks. Police report the theft of two pocketbooks last week, one taken from a table Saturday night in the Unitarian Church.

The owner, Joan Parsons, 76 Pine Street, lost $40, personal papers and her eyeglasses. Her glasses were later found in a men's room in the church but there was no sign of the purse, police said.

Kathleen Hoza, 343 Foulke Hall, a Princeton University student, had her purse grabbed by two teenager boys while she was watching a tennis exhibition Saturday in Jadwin Gym.

The purse, containing $8 and an $8 Instamatic camera, was later recovered on the University's ROTC building grounds opposite Jadwin and returned to the owner.

Following a police investigation, two Princeton youths, age 15 and 13 were arrested by Ptl. Harry Morton and charged with the purse-snatching. They were later released to their parents after being referred to juvenile authorities for possible future action.

Two Girls Charged. Two 17-year old Princeton girls have been charged with shoplifting after they were apprehended last week by Patricia Mc-Naughton, a security officer at Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

The two allegedly concealed two shirts valued at $25.50 in their purses. After processing, they were released to the custody of their parents, pending further juvenile action.

Borough police report thefts at Nassau Liquors, 94 Nassau, and Robert Joseph's Beauty Salon, 203 Nassau, neither of which, they said, showed signs of forced entry.

One hundred dollars was taken from an unlocked strong box kept in an office at the liquor store, while a radio-tape machine valued at $250 was stolen from the beauty parlor. Also taken, police said, were more than 100 tapes valued at $6.95 each and 36 plastic hair brushes worth $8 each.

Camera Taken From Car. A Cranbury resident had an $85 camera stolen from the glove compartment of his car between 4:15 and 6:30 Sunday afternoon while it was parked in the lot next to the Princeton Playhouse. Police said the car was unlocked.

An employee of Nassau Inn had her full-length "fake" fur coat stolen last week from a cloak room at the Inn. She valued it at $125.

TWO YOUTHS INJURED
When Car Hits Tree. John D. Leshner, 17, 108 Hun Road, and his 18-year old passenger,

One Man's Parked Car Hit Twice in 2 Days

Lightning struck twice last week for Robin M. Lovering, 195 S Harrison Street

At 8:24 Friday night, his parked 1966 sedan was struck by another car and pushed over the curb onto a lawn, damaging its rear and undercarriage. The driver, Walter Kob, 61, 151 N Harrison, was charged with drunken driving by Ptl. Robert Nielsen, after he investigated the mishap which took place on S. Harrison, 120 feet from Southern Way

Now it is 52 minutes into Sunday. Mr. Lovering's car is one of three parked in a line on S. Harrison, 100 feet from Southern Way

Roger F. Jodon, 18, Day Road, Cranbury, chooses this time to fall asleep at the wheel. His car drifts to the right and strikes all three parked cars—a sports car owned by Leon A. Thompson of Trenton, a sedan owned by Margery Davidson, 193 Harrison and Mr. Lovering's already bruised car. This time, both sides were damaged

Mr. Jodon was ticketed for careless driving by Pt. Mario Musso. As for Mr. Lovering, he must be wondering if there isn't a ticket that Fate could be given for following too closely Brian M. Hughes, were injured Saturday when their car left Mercer Road near Gallup Road East and struck a tree.

Both were treated at Princeton Medical Center for lacerations of the face. Mr. Leshner was charged with careless driving by Ptl. Mario Musso after the accident, which occurred at 29 minutes past midnight.

Three cars were involved in a skidding accident Friday morning at the intersection of N. Harrison and Terhune Road. Sgt. Michael Kopliner described the roadway as "extremely slippery with ice" and he issued no summonses.

Joan K. Kenny, 46, Canal Road, Belle Mead, one of the drivers, and her passenger, Kara Kenny, 11, both complained of pain in the head. They were treated at the Medical Center.

According to police, a car driven by Nils L. Nilsson, 39, of Clifton, skidded to a stop and continued partially into the intersection. This forced Mrs. Kenny to apply her brakes suddenly. Her car struck the left front of the Nilsson car.

A third car traveling behind the Kenny car was also unable to stop and struck the latter from behind. Its driver was identified as Donna M. Raczyński, 25, of Somerville. All three cars were able to drive away from the scene.

Boy, Car Collide. A seven-year old boy ran into the side of a car traveling on Witherspoon shortly after 3 p.m. Friday but apparently he was not injured.

Police said that Mikelsic Beauvil, 34 Witherspoon Lane, who had been standing on the curb, suddenly ran into the left rear door of a car operated by Lancelia Scudder, 75, 16 Clay Street. There were no charges.

Police said that the youth was not knocked down by the impact and suffered no visible injuries.

Hit and Run. Borough police have sent out an alert for a car which struck the rear of a small foreign car waiting for the light at Nassau and Witherspoon Thursday afternoon, and then fled the scene.

A passenger in the struck car, Edna M. Burke, 22, of Hightstown, complained of pains in the back of her neck. St. Thomas Proaccino reported that he found her in

What is the normal pregnant lady like? According to authorities, pregnancy contributes some strains to the expectant mother. Among these are an increase in nervous tension, morning sickness, and the feeling that life is somehow too difficult to cope with. The expectant mother may be easily upset over very minor disturbances, she may also be sick at some time during each day—morning sickness occurs in more than half of all pregnancies. Tests for pregnancy include the Aschheim-Zondek test and the Friedman test.

CUTS ANGER RECREATION
Budget Slash Asked. All wading pools closing four weeks early, complete closing of five playgrounds, no more officials for any league games—these are the gloomy and angry forecasts of the Joint Recreation Board after its members were asked to lop $22,500 from their proposed 1975 budget.

"We think it's terribly unreasonable," said board chairman Myles Dumont this week. "They don't realize how badly they are hurting the recreation program. It's taken eight to ten years to build up, and they can wipe it all out at once. You can't just build these things back up right away."

Almost all recreation programs are affected by the budget slashing, Mrs. Dumont said. Only tennis, paddle tennis and the swimming pool will remain relatively untouched. And even here, the free tennis clinic is being eliminated, at a saving of $600.

Mrs. Dumont and her fellow board members say these requested cuts put recreation a more than $20,000 below last year. Town officials say the cut is only $13,000, but Mrs. Dumont cites such factors as three successive rent increases from recreation's landlord the Princeton Regional School System (the offices are in the Valley Road building) and increased costs of gasoline and electricity.

"We sure do hope they'll put some of this back in," she said.

HAS STOLEN WALLET
Humbert St. Man Charged. Antonio Guglielmi, 22, 32 Humbert Street, has been charged by Borough police with possession of stolen property—a wallet which they say belongs to a Princeton University student. Guglielmi surrendered himself at police headquarters on Monday.

Police said that they recovered the wallet in the suspect's truck. The student's identification card had been used to cash a stolen check, they said. Guglielmi was released in 10% cash of $250 bail.

Meeting Date Changed

The monthly meeting of the Princeton Recreation Board has been moved forward one week from February 18 to Tuesday evening, the 11th, at 8:15 p.m. in Township Hall.

Executive Director R. Donald Barr reports that the board will discuss the recreation budget for 1975 and all the cuts suggested by the Borough and Township governing bodies. Mr. Barr urged those who are interested in the recreation programs in the community to attend Tuesday's meeting.

week after they allegedly tried to forge checks at two Princeton banks.

John Miller, 21, 7 Lytle Street, was arrested Friday after he allegedly attempted to forge a stolen check for $115. He has since been released in $500 bail, pending a preliminary hearing in Township court February 19.

Miller was charged with forging a check and possession of a credit card without the owner's consent. Police report that the check had been stolen from Pauline E. Brown, 92 Leigh Avenue.

Miller was arrested only a few minutes after Township police sent out an alarm at 3:25 that the occupants of a yellow Ford were suspects in an attempt to cash a check at the Princeton Bank and Trust Company on Route 206. The car was stopped at Witherspoon and Franklin by Borough P.D. Joseph Wilhelm, who turned the occupants, John Miller and his brother, Larry, over to Township police. Det. Frank Boccanfuso conducted the Township investigation.

Borough police have charged Jerome B. McGowan, 27, 246 John Street, with attempting last week to forge a $75 check at the 360 Nassau Street branch of the First National Bank and with attempting to cash an official document. He has been released in 10% cash of $500 bail, pending his appearance in court.

According to police, McGowan presented the check and a driver's license for identification to the teller. Both had been stolen, police said.

When the teller checked the signatures on the check and license and saw that they were not alike, police continued, the suspect realized what was happening and fled. The teller, however, was able to read the suspect's license plate number which he gave police.

McGowan's car was stopped shortly thereafter and he was identified by the teller, police said.

Battery Vendor Caught. Robin L. Everett, 19, 116 Leigh Avenue, was arrested last week by Det. Boccanfuso, after he allegedly tried to sell two stolen batteries to persons on Leigh Avenue.

Everett has been released in $500 bail set by Judge Philip Carchman, pending his appearance in court. Police were alerted to Everett's attempted sales by an anonymous phone call.

The batteries had been stolen a few days earlier from Stefanelli & Sons Amoco Station on Bayard Lane.

ceton area residents were fined by Judge Philip Carchman Monday in Borough court for speeding.

They are: Percy W. Benson, 150 Witherspoon Street, $40; Dennis White, 240 N. Harrison Street, $45; Michael D. Costello, 457 Riverside Drive, $25; Michael D. Flanagan, 6 Sutton Place, $45; Margaret D. Stack, Woods Road, Belle Mead, $28; Malcolm D. Young, 72 N. Stanworth, $22; Aubrey Huston 3d, 79 Hun Road, $15; Robert L. Wood Jr., 30 Leigh Avenue, $15; Thomas C. Roberts, 16 Stony Brook Lane, $44; and Franklyn A. Cane, 160 Spruce Street, $20.

Geoffrey Ryan, Brunswick Pike, and Ted Dean, 127 Meadowbrook Drive, paid $30 and $25 for careless driving. Randolph E. Bullock, 112 Witherspoon Street paid two fines: $30 for obstructing passage of vehicles, and $20 for no license or registration in possession.

TOWNSHIP BUYS GARAGE For Storage. The cavernous Tiger Bus Garage on John Street will be purchased by Princeton Township from Suburban Transit for $100,000, following unanimous Committee action Monday night.

The structure will be used chiefly for storage of big Township road vehicles, but since there is a lift inside, the building will also be a place where trucks are fixed.

Committee member Margaret Broadwater emphasized that the main purpose of the garage would be storage, and that only under blizzard conditions would heavy equipment move out of the garage and into the quiet residential streets in the middle of the night. Residents of the area have complained for years about early-morning noise of Suburban Transit buses kept there.

"It's an abominable eyesore!" said Michael Fuschini, a neighbor at 69 Birch Avenue, "unregistered vehicles on the property, no maintenance—it's hideous!"

Mayor Jay Bleiman told Mr. Fuschini that the Township wanted to buy the garage four years ago, but balked at Suburban's price of $200,000.

The Great Road bike path easement ordinance remains on the table. An error in describing a property boundary needs to be corrected.

Attorney Thomas Jamieson said his client, John Winant, would make available 900 feet adjacent to Pretty Brook Road for an alternative bike path route. Mr. Jamieson says that from the intersection of The Great Road and Pretty Brook there is only .1 mile difference in biking to Princeton Day

School via The Great Road, and along the back way via Pretty Brook and Dean Mathey Drive

Committee announced the appointment of Stanley C. Smoyer as chairman of the Bicentennial Committee. He succeeds William Seldon, who has resigned as chairman but will remain as a committee member.

The next Township Committee meeting will be next Monday, February 10, at 8 p.m. The budget will be formally introduced. The normal third-Monday meeting has been changed to the fourth Monday because of the George Washington holiday. Committee will meet on Monday, February 24 at 8 p.m.

FROM MOBIL: $1,000

To McCarter. Employees of the Mobil Technical Service Laboratories in Pennington, have been instrumental in getting a thousand-dollar grant for McCarter Theatre to underwrite the cost of a performance of Tennessee Williams' "Kingdom of the Earth." It will be the first Friday-night performance, traditionally McCarter Associates Patrons Night. The date is March 7.

The grant comes from the Mobil Foundation. In acknowledgment, Mrs. Thomas H. Paine, chairman of the McCarter Associates board, said, "We are delighted with the generosity of the Mobil Foundation and are particularly pleased to welcome the Mobil Technical center into the Associates, where its leadership in the field of business support of the arts will be sincerely appreciated."

Daniel Seltzer, president and chairman of McCarter's trustees, commended Mobil also, and cited the theatre's need for "the broad support of the community, including those members of the business sector who benefit so profoundly from the presence of such institutions as McCarter."

AUDITIONS ANNOUNCED

The Taking of Pelham One Two Three. If you can believe four thugs can hijack a New York subway car with 17 passengers on board and demand a $1 million ransom for their return, then "The Taking of Pelham One Two Three," a highly-polished thriller, will more than satisfy.

Robert Shaw, a coolly sadistic sort who makes it clear he means business, and three other thinly-disguised men carrying thinly-disguised machine guns under their coats, commandeer the subway car.

In the merry band are Martin Balsam, a disgruntled ex-motorman, Hector Elizondo, an uptight Mafia reject, and Earl Hindman, Walter Matthau excels as the head of the transit police who must negotiate with the hijackers, cope with the

By THE TOWN CRIER
Box 1976, Princeton, N.J. 08540

Governor Byrne has announced a statewide bicentennial observance in 1976 and 1977 of what he called the "10 crucial days" of the Revolution in New Jersey. The period began when General George Washington led his army across the ice-choked Delaware River on Christmas night to defeat the Hessian forces here and ended with an American victory in Princeton on January 3, 1777

An extremely interesting book of pictorial history of town and campus is PRINCETON ARCHITECTURE by Constance M. Greiff, Mary W. Gibbons and Elizabeth G. C. Menzies. There is much to be learned about Princeton from both the pictures and descriptions Published by Princeton University Press in 1967, it can be seen at the Princeton Historical Society, the public library or purchased at any book store

The opening of the Camden and Amboy Railroad in 1839 made it possible for passengers to travel from New York to Philadelphia without an overnight rest

The original Nassau Inn closed its doors in 1937. In the lobby of the "new" Nassau Tavern (now Nassau Inn again) is a platform taken from the cellar of the old Inn, used in days gone by to support casks of wines.

Professor Henry Steele Commager entitled "Can we Revive the Spirit of 1776?"

stupidity and bureaucracy of

The film succeeds on several levels. Technically, it is superb, making remarkable use of the subway system and New York City. There is the excitement of the planning and actual takeover of the subway car. And what could have been played for sheer terror is laced with enough bawdy humor and exaggeration to prevent realistic fear from getting in the way of a good time.

The characters of the passengers don't count for much; the real core of the film is the cat-and-mouse game between the hijackers and the resources at the disposal of Matthau. The intercutting of the tense underground action with the frenzied activity at street level has been well done.
This razor sharp editing keeps
neck pace.

PRINCE

Wet Rainbow. The Prince, which seems bent on becoming the porn capital of the area, has a new offering this week, but that's all that is new; the film's stars and substance are dreadfully familiar.

All aficionados could care less;
Georgina Spelvin, who had a devil of a time as Miss Jones, and was described by one critic as having the selectivity of the Lincoln Tunnel, is a student named Rainbow. She is teamed with—who else?—
Harry Reems, a veteran of many pornographic films.

Since nothing is verboten in hardcore porno films—and this is surely one—the trick is to try to make each one slightly different by adding a new twist. Rainbow has a few.

It has a plot, a flimsy and idiotic one to be sure, but still a plot. Before long they'll be adding redeeming social value.

And when Miss Spelvin isn't actively engaged in one-on-one encounters she likes to amuse herself with other objects.

Unless you are a porn addict, there is no pot of gold at the end of this rainbow.

FOLK MUSIC FRIDAY

Autoharp to be Featured. Kilby Snow, autoharp player and ballad singer, will appear in concert Friday at 8:15 at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church. The concert is sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society.

Born in Grayson County, Virginia, in 1905, Kilby Snow has been playing autoharp since the age of 3. At 5, he appeared at Winston Salem, North Carolina, for a fiddlers' convention, took first prize, and was declared the Autoharp Champion of North Carolina.

Kilby Snow's style of playing is one of the more unusual to be heard and produces sounds that are unbelievable for an autoharp. His tunes are drawn from country songs and breakdowns, as well as many he has written. He has appeared at numerous colleges and festivals, including performances at the National Folk Festival, the Smithsonian Festival of American Folklife, and the University of Chicago Folk Festival.

Admission to the concert is $2.50 general, $2 for students, and $1.50 for society members. There are no advance ticket sales. For further information, call Buzz Jobs at (609) 882-5531.

ORGAN CONCERTSUNDAY

In University Chapel. The first of the organ concerts commemorating Albert Schweitzer at Princeton University will be held Sunday evening at 7 in the University Chapel. The concert is open to the public, admission free.

The organist is Stefan Kozinski, a member of the Class of 1976. He will play works by Johann Sebastian Bach, Dietrich Buxtehude, Francois Couperin le grand, Marcel Dupre and Martin Amlin.

Mr. Kozinski began organ study in 1965. In 1972 he played epilogue programs in the University Chapel and is now a university organist.

MRS. MANDEL TO PLAY

At February 14 Concert. Mrs. Susan A. Mandel, 217-B Marshall St., will be the featured piano soloist at the February 14 concert of the Princeton University Orchestra at Alexander Hall at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mandel won first place in the annual Concerto Competition conducted recently by the Orchestra. She will perform Beethoven's Concerto No. 1 in C Major. Mrs. Mandel has a Master of Music in piano from SUNY at Stony Brook and is currently studying with Gilbert Kalish in New York City.

Conducted by Mordechai Sheinkman, the Orchestra will also perform Canzon XII a 8 (from Sacrae Symphoniae) by Gabrieli, Dupre's Prelude and Fugue in G Minor and Symphony No. 1 in C Major by Bizet, in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the composer's death.

The concert is free and open to the public.

GUITARIST FEATURED

At Lawrenceville School. The Music in the Rotunda series at Lawrenceville School will continue Friday evening at 8 with a classical guitar recital by Durant Robertson, Princeton musician and composer, in the John Dixon Library.

Mr. Robertson has studied classical guitar since the age of 11, and his teachers have included composers Kenneth Gaburo, William Sydemann and Vladimir Ussachevsky. His recent appearances include recitals at the Philadelphia Classical Guitar Society, Columbus Boychoir School and the Painted Bride Gallery in Philadelphia.

WHO'S IN CHARGE?

Prague Has No Conductor. The Prague Chamber Orchestra, which has never used a conductor, will play at McCarter Theatre on Monday, February 17 at 8 p.m., presenting a concert of Mozart, Prokofiev and Dvorak.

Founded in 1951, the Prague Chamber Orchestra consists of 36 musicians, each of whom contributes advice. Preparatory work is coordinated by one member of the ensemble who leads study sessions, but does not conduct.

The artists who formed the ensemble wanted an orchestra of the classic type, utilizing full instrumentation including woodwinds, brass and percussion as well as strings.

For its Princeton concert, the orchestra will play Mozart's Symphony No. 38—the "Prague," of course—the Prokofiev "Classical" Symphony and Dvorak's Czech Suite in D, Opus 39.

BRUBECK

...and Sons. "Two Generations of Brubeck" will play McCarter on Tuesday, February 18 at 8 p.m. It's jazz pianist Dave Brubeck, back in McCarter for his annual appearance with three of his sons, plus guest artists Gerry Mulligan and Paul Desmond.

Brubeck disbanded his famous quartet in 1967. But he decided to draft three of his sons—Darius on keyboards, Chris on electric bass and trombone and Danny on drums—to make the "Two Generations" combo. Saxophonists Gerry Mulligan and Paul Desmond will be along, as they frequently are when "Two Generations" performs.

PROGRAM LISTED

By Music Club. The Music Club will meet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ray E. Robinson next Wednesday at 8:30. Fadlou Shehadi, baritone, and Arlene Jones, pianist, will open the program with "Chansons Gaillardes" by Francis Poulenc. A flute Quartet, Opus 20, No. 3, by Ignatz Pleyel will be performed by Everett Shaw, flute, Matteo Giammarino, violin, Joan Mills, viola, and Elizabeth Lamb, cello.

The string players will then perform a trio for two violas and cello composed by Mr. Shaw's son, Roger.

Next, four songs and arias by Mozart will be performed by Lawana Ingle, soprano, and Cecile Herman, pianist. George and Arlene Jones will conclude the program with Sonata for Clarinet and Piano, by Malcolm Arnold.

The meeting is open only to club members and their friends.

IT'S NEW To Us

LOVING THOUGHTS...
For Valentine's Day. Whether your love be a secret one or not February 14 is the day to acknowledge it. Although elaborate masked balls and three-dimensional cards are a thing of the past, there are still many ways to remember a loved one.

Princeton is abounding with hearts and flowers, and here are some gift suggestions for Valentine's Day. Perfume is a gift of love at any time, and one of the most helpful people in town is Dorothea Fretz of The Thorne Pharmacy, 169 Nassau Street. She has worked there for more than 20 years and knows the various scents inside out and backwards.

Thorne's is currently featuring a window of Miss Dior and Diorissimo as there is a special price on a three-ounce bottle of eau de toilette, $5.50 instead of the usual $11.25. Miss Dior is a classic dry floral blend with touches of rose, sandalwood and jasmine. Diorissimo is also a floral, but with a delightful scent of lily of the valley.

Although Cabochard means willful or stubborn, the perfume of the same name is a medium fragrance; and its yearly special of a one-ounce spray of eau de toilette is now available, $4.50.

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY: Nodding to all who pass Flower Basket's window on Nassau Street, this enchanting couple reminds us of the old-fashioned sentiments of Valentine's Day.

Other thoughts are Interlude, an exotic domestic fragrance by Frances Demey that happens to be appropriately wrapped in red velvet with silver trim; Weil de Weil, a relatively new floral blend with a top-note of hyacinth—just right for Spring; or Nina Ricci's L'Air du Temps which Mrs. Fretz calls "a fabulous perfume, an exciting floral blend with a tiny bit of clove."

Down a few doors, The Country Mouse, 164 Nassau Street, has some excellent candle values, essential to any romantic evening. We especially liked the scented Victorian rose-shaped one. You can choose a red, salmon, pink, yellow or white rose, and it is now $4.95 (reduced from $10).

Blueberry Candles. The multi-scented rainbow striped candles would be fun as you could guess the fragrances, and the cook in your life might enjoy the cherry or blueberry preserve candles in mason jars, 89 cents and $1.50 each. When it comes time to light these, use the Danish matches packaged in little boxes covered with heart and flowers, six for 79 cents.

Country Mouse has recently added some new shelf arrangements giving the store a more open feeling. This has also allowed the card section to be expanded, and of course there are lots of delightful Gordon Fraser Valentines. As a final thought, if you shy away from the traditional pink and red, do look at the enchanting new mice attired in calico dresses and blue felt suits, $10.95 to $16.

Hearts of every flavor and size are at Polly's Fine Candies, Palmer Square West, and what better way to express your affection. We saw chocolate hearts on lollypop sticks, willow baskets filled with small peetin hearts, chocolate marshmallow ones by Blum's, butter cream hearts and glacey jellyones, 15 cents and up.

Beautiful heart-shaped boxes of assorted chocolates are mainly by Schrafft's and Blum's of San Francisco which Mrs. Lyons says makes a "high quality, good candy." There are small red ones priced at 98 cents and large velvet or satin ones for $7.95, with lots in between.

You might also look at the Super Chocolate Kiss, $3; Blum's cherry cordials dipped in dark chocolate ("rich, but good," says Mrs. Lyons), $2.75 for a 10 ounce box; or the delicious orange, lemon, lime or raspberry pectin jellies, $2.60 a pound. As always, the specialties sell quickly here, so go soon if you don't want to be disappointed.

We saw lots of traditional heart-shaped jewelry at La Vake's, 54 Nassau Street. There is a small gold-filled pin of two twisted hearts, a gold heart-shaped ring, fat lockets of all sizes, and a heart pendant of pearls, $12.50 and up.

In the sterling love department, there is a "kiss" to hang around her neck, $7.50 and $17.50, a heart-shaped ring on which to carry her keys, $12; or a small heart-shaped frame in which to place your picture, $17. As a Valentine's special, La Vake's will engrave at no extra charge two sterling bracelets, $15 and $27.50.

One of the most beautiful hearts of all is a small gold-plated white Limoges box decorated with a blue mini design, $22. There are also some lovely papier mache boxes from Kashmir, $9 and up; and bone china flowers by Ansley, such as a small white bouquet, $9.50 or a white basket of daffodils, $35.

Love Bundle. If you won't be seeing your valentine, Flower Basket, 110 Nassau Street will happily send FTD's special for you. Called the love bundle, it is a feminine bouquet of daisies, baby's breath and carnations in several colors with a small vial of perfume tucked inside, four sizes from $12.50 to $20.

For a lasting gift, a new shipment of dried flower arrangements has just arrived. These delicate bouquets in small pewter mugs, glass boxes or silver chests contain sweetheart roses, statice, hydrangea florettes and many other flowers, $10 and up.

There will also be blooming plants such as azaleas or african violets; long-stemmed roses, possibly the most romantic of gifts; and in the spirit of WIN, the usual cash-and-carry specials.

When it comes time to wrap your gift, visit International Arrivals at the Princeton Shopping Center, which has an excellent paper goods section. There are loads of cards, ribbons, seals and papers, including our favorite one covered with large red kiss marks.

If you are planning a party, decorate the table with Hallmark's raining hearts. There are a tablecloth, napkins, cups, plates, invitations, a centerpiece—whatever you need and all in easy to clean up paper. There are also special cookie cutters (a cupid and a heart); red or white paper heart-shaped doilies which can be infuriatingly hard to locate; and lots of solid red cups, napkins and soon.

For small gifts, there are plastic pins for the children with the word Love or Raggedy Ann and Andy holding a heart, 75 cents; or for an older valentine, heart pendants in clear locite, wood, textured gold lockets or porcelain with dainty flowers, about $3 to $4. In addition, we saw some handsome Hallmark books—"How Do I Love Thee," a collection of poems or "Love Is Now," a selection of photographs and short writings, $5 and $8.50.

NEW PROVOST NAMED
Dr. Albert Rees Chosen. Dr. Albert Rees, Class of 1913 Professor in Political Economy at Princeton University and currently on leave as Director of President Ford's Council on Wage and Price Stability, has been designated to succeed Dr. F. Sheldon Hackney as Provost at Princeton. Dr. Hackney's appointment as President of Tulane University, effective July 1, was announced last month.

Dr. Rees, 53, a labor economist who has been a member of the Princeton faculty since 1966, and who has served as Chairman of the Economics Departments at both Princeton (1971-74) and the University of Chicago (1962-65), will assume his new duties no later than September 1. His appointment, which was approved at a special meeting of the executive committee of the University's Board of Trustees, was announced by President William G. Bowen, who said:

"We are fortunate indeed that Prof. Rees is willing to serve as Provost at this critical time for Princeton as for all American higher education. He is an able and highly respected member of the academic community, with a deep concern for education and for people, and with wide experience outside of universities as well as within them. The Provost bears major responsibilities for forward planning and resource allocation at Princeton, and I think that we have found an unusually effective and sensitive person to lead our continuing effort to overcome the enormous financial challenges that we face—and overcome them in ways consistent with the fundamental educational purposes we serve."

Opportunities Cited. In commenting on his selection, Dr. Rees, a 1943 graduate of Oberlin College who received

Bus Riders Top 1,000

"Hooray!" said Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week when he learned that Princeton's twin loop buses had topped the one-thousand-rider mark. 1,077 riders during the week ending January 24.

"Champagne!" said Township Mayor Jay Bleiman, at the same news. He added hastily that he had no plans to produce a bottle, but presumed that somebody, somewhere, might.

"The level of ridership demonstrates the need," Mayor Cawley added. Mercer Metro says the 1,000-per-week figure is higher than their own formula, which makes Mayor Cawley doubly encouraged. A goal of 12 riders per hour, of 1,300 per week, has often been cited.

The county will hold a public hearing February 20 on its application for Federal money to buy buses. By Monday, Princeton's piggyback request for two used buses will be part of that application, Mayor Cawley said.

his Ph.D. from Chicago in 1950, said: "I came to Princeton in 1966 in large part because of the special opportunities here to combine graduate and undergraduate teaching and because of this University's strong traditions in teaching, in scholarship, and in concern for the individual. Over the years my affection for Princeton has grown, and I look forward now to the opportunities that I will have as Provost to work with all the different elements of the University."

As Provost, Dr. Rees will be the general deputy of the President, with particular responsibility for the overall academic development of the University and for coordination among its various academic activities, departments, and programs.

As Provost he will work particularly closely with the University's senior deans: Dean of the Faculty Aaron Lemonick; Dean of the Graduate School Alvin B. Kernan; Dean of the College Neil L. Rudenstine; and Dean of Student Affairs Adele S. Simmons.

A native of New York City, Professor Rees lives at 32 Turner Court, with his wife Marianne, and two sons, Daniel, 10, and Jonathan, 8. Marianne Rees is President of Princeton Community Housing, an organization involved in the construction of low and middle income housing in Princeton.

Dr. Rees will be Princeton's fourth Provost, following Dr. J. Douglas Brown, former Dean of the Faculty who served 1966-1967; Dr. Bowen, 1967-1972; and Dr. Hackney, who succeeded Dr. Bowen upon his installation as President in 1972.

NEXT LECTURE LISTED
By Historical Society. The Historical Society of Princeton will present the fifth lecture in its Morning Series on Tuesday at 10:30 in Pierce Hall, Trinity Church, on "Decorative Arts Related to New Jersey in the Henry Francis DuPont Winterthur Museum." Donald C. Peirce, currently a Winterthur Fellow, will be the speaker.

Mr. Peirce will give an illustrated talk discussing such objects as Wistarburg glass, Ware chairs, and Matthew Egerton's cabinet work. All of the objects discussed can be seen at the Winterthur Museum.

Tickets are available for $1.50 per person at the Society's headquarters or at Pierce Hall the morning of the lecture. The sixth and final lecture will be given February 18 on "Oriental Porcelain for the Export Market" by Phillip H. Curtis, Curator of Decorative Arts for the Newark Museum.

Meeting Held. The Society held its annual meeting last week, announcing that it hoped to raise $100,000 for the Preservation Revolving Fund Committee by spreading it to a larger number of contributors.

So far, $53,000 is at hand.

A Revolving Fund uses cash and lines of credit to preserve worthy building landmarks by buying them until they can be sold or rented to preservation-minded buyers. The funds from the sale or rental are then plowed back into other preservation projects.

Guest speaker William Hart, Jr., field service officer of the National Trust, explained that one of the major problems in preservation is to educate zoners, who often favor special interests, to understand how old buildings can be adapted to other uses. The Revolving Fund concept is credited with saving Savannah, Georgia, a large area in Seattle, Washington, and Harrisville, New Hampshire.

A Preservation Revolving Fund committee was formed. Members are William J. Brennan, III, Alfred Busselle, Walter F. Fullam, Mrs. James A. Kerr, Mrs. Gordon Knox, William Short and L.V. Sylvester Jr., representing legal, real estate, historical and banking interests.

FENWICK OPPOSES TAX

On Imported Oil.

Congresswoman Millicent Fenwick (R., N.J.) has indicated in her bi-weekly newsletter that she has decided, "with great reluctance," to oppose President Ford's proposed tax on imported oil. She feels that it will pose too great a burden on the spending habits of low and middle-income people.

Mrs. Fenwick also pointed out that curtailment of small consumer expenditures will produce a negative multiplier effect of its own that could be hazardous to many small businesses.

The text of part of her newsletter follows: "A good case can be, and has been, made for the President's tax on imported petroleum. There are sound, if complicated, reasons for supporting it. And I would so like to support the President who has inherited this economic crisis."

She continued, "But in my bones, I feel it is somehow wrong to ask people who have suffered so many apparently uncontrollable price rises to accept another, deliberately imposed by their own government. It would be a bitter thing. And I question also the shock this would be to an economy which is showing the first rays of hope."

Mrs. Fenwick concluded, "I do not expect to vote for the tax on oil, but it will not be an easy moment when it comes to a vote in the House, as it will may."

CHANGES SET FOR 206

In Lawrence Township, The Department of Transportation has announced that bids will be received February 20 to improve six-tenths of a mile of U.S. Route 206 in Lawrence Township.

Under this project, which extends from Little Shabakunk Creek to Interstate Route 295, both travel lanes will be widened to 13 feet and left turn slots will be constructed at seven intersections. The road

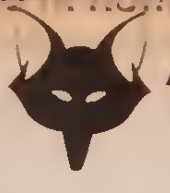

The left turn slots, designed to improve the flow of traffic, will be located in the north-bound roadway of Route 206 at Shelmel Lane, Lombard Avenue, Skillman Avenue, West Long Drive and the three entrances to Rider College.

A three-phase traffic signal will be installed at the main entrance to the college (opposite Vanderveer drive) to handle the steady flow of student vehicles and to increase safety and reduce congestion. A green arrow will allow motorists making left turns into the college to proceed without interference from oncoming traffic. The signal will have push-button controls so pedestrians can stop traffic in order to cross the busy highway safely.

As part of the signalization, the main entrance to Rider College will be widened to facilitate the movement of traffic in and out of the college. To reduce interference with mainline traffic, two bus stops on Route 206 will be relocated off the travelled way. One stop will be adjacent to the main entrance to the college and the other on the north side of Vanderveer Drive.

Motorists will experience minimal delays during construction since traffic will be maintained in both directions. The project, scheduled for completion in July, will be financed entirely with State funds.

Opinion in State Switches to Back Income Tax Provided Reduction in Property Taxes Follows

Public opinion in New Jersey has swung sharply in favor of an income tax if it led to a reduction in local property taxes.

The latest New Jersey Poll, conducted by the Eagleton Institute of Rutgers University, finds 59 percent in favor of a state income tax tied to property tax reform. Twenty-seven percent oppose such a plan with 14 percent undecided. The Poll was taken before Governor Byrne made his latest proposal for an income tax.

According to Dr. Stephen A. Salmore, Director of the New Jersey Poll, "These latest results are a dramatic reversal of a three year trend of declining support for a state income tax." In February 1972, when the New Jersey Poll first asked the question, an income tax tied to property tax reform was favored by a 57-30 margin. Support for such an income tax fell steadily until September, 1974, just after the Legislature had failed to pass Governor Byrne's first income tax proposal, it was opposed by a 50-43 margin.

"Would you be in favor of a state income tax if it led to a reduction in the local property tax for schools?" The figures in percentages:

	Yes	No
January 1975	49	27
September 1974	41	50
May 1974	47	41
January 1974	50	36
October 1973	50	40
May 1972	55	32
February 1972	57	30

The number who answered "Don't Know" ranged from seven to 14 percent.

Sentiment Shifts. Dr. Salmore said, "The climate of opinion in New Jersey clearly favors some form of tax reform involving a broad-based tax." He reported that an increase in the sales tax linked with reduced local property taxes is also strongly supported with 55 percent in favor and 32 percent opposed. As recently as November of last year such an increase in the sales tax was opposed by 52 percent to 39 percent.

A statewide property tax to replace the local property tax is also favored, although only by the narrow margin of 45-38, the Poll found. A year ago, last January, such a statewide property tax was favored by a much wider margin of 49-25.

When asked to choose which tax they would prefer if they had to choose one, respondents to the Poll gave no tax a clear cut majority. An increase in the sales tax is chosen by 35 percent with 30 percent opting for a state income tax. Only 24 percent choose a statewide property tax as their preferred alternative.

"The higher levels of support given an income tax and an increase in the sales tax is directly related to the public's perception that these broad based taxes are much fairer than a property tax," Dr. Salmore said. Of the three types of taxes 46 percent rate the sales tax as the fairest, 35 percent call the income tax fairest while only 8 percent feel the property tax the most equitable.

Support for an income tax or an increased sales tax tied to property tax relief is strong among all groups in the state. Some groups, however, had clear preferences.

Those with a family income over $15,000 a year favor an income tax over an increase in the sales tax by 43-32. Those with a family income of less than $10,000 a year opt for the sales tax increase by 33-26.

"The Poll shows, somewhat unexpectedly, that those who would be hardest hit by an income tax the well-to-do, suburbanites, and professionals, for instance, are its strongest supporters," Dr. Salmore noted. "One possible reason for this," he explained, "is that these groups traditionally are most concerned about the quality of education and they see the whole tax problem as inextricably linked with the quality of education."

The Fourteenth New Jersey Poll was conducted by telephone from the Eagleton Institute of Politics in New Brunswick, N.J. between January 6 and 16. A scientifically selected random sample of 1005 N.J. residents 18 years of age or older were interviewed.

PEDDLER'S VILLAGE
LAHASKA, BUCKS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

Dear County: Please Keep Our Taxes Down

The following letter has been sent to Mercer County's Freeholders by Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley and Township Mayor Jay Bleiman.

"On behalf of citizens and taxpayers in Princeton Borough and Princeton Township, we ask that you commit yourselves to make an unusual effort to keep the county tax rate as near the 1974 level as possible. We are doing this in Princeton, hoping to hold the municipal local purpose rate at, or very near, the 1974 level. To accomplish this, we are prohibiting new programs, severely reducing some and eliminating a few programs. We also hope for a moderate level of salary increase.

"This action reflects our concern with the recessionary factors in our economy as well as the failure of the state legislature to enact any program of tax reform. We are aware that these inflationary factors have added significantly to your mandated welfare expenses and that you, too, must struggle with the effects of inflation and other expenses that are beyond your control. However, we hope you can find other areas to reduce expenditures to compensate.

"Please join us in working for an absolute minimum in the total tax increase."

RAZE WE MUST
Before We Build. Two families living at 65-67 Olden will be evicted so the University can tear the house down as part of plans for the $2.5 million Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library. Construction on the library is scheduled to begin late this spring.

The library won't actually stand on land now occupied by the house, according to John P. Moran, vice-president for facilities for the University. But, it will be close, so the house has to go.

Mr. Moran added that the University wants to make sure it doesn't block McCosh Walk, the path that goes from the University Store to the Engineering Quadrangle on Olden.

Tenants of the house, Angela Giral and Harold M. Weintraub have proposed that the University build its new library on one of the Engineering Quad parking lots.

Meanwhile, the University is helping the two families to find new homes, and will pay the cost of moving.

APPLICATIONS OPEN
For YWCA After-School Program. The YWCA After-School Program is accepting applications for February and September, 1975.

In co-operation with the YMCA, the program provides a variety of activities for children from first to fifth grade. Organized to meet the needs of children of working parents, the program runs from Monday through Friday from 2:30-5:30 and on Wednesdays from 12:30-5:30 with special arrangements for school holidays.

Activities offered are varied including puppetry, magic, drama and art, games, swimming, wrestling and gymnastics, and the opportunity for travel to interesting places each Wednesday. Title IV-A federal funds are available to pay the tuition of a number of children whose family income is less than $9,840 ceiling set by the New Jersey Department of Institutions and Agencies. A Look Back

Valentine memories of long-ago Princeton, when lacy Valentines were in Hinkson's window next to the Baker Street arch, will be recalled next Thursday, when Townspeople gather in the Public Library meeting room.

Older Princeton residents are invited to be there at 3:15, with old photographs, old Valentines, dress patterns, photographs and recipes. Horses, hacks and livery stables will also be discussed.

Cookie donations will be welcomed for the refreshment hour. Anyone who needs transportation should call 921-6817 the afternoon of Wednesday February 12.

"Murder on the Orient Express" Matinee tickets are $1.50 Monday through Friday, except holidays. Tickets are $2.50 Monday through Thursday evenings TOWN TOPICS regrets failing to make a distinction between weekend and weekday rates

S.A.V.E. Thanked

To the Editor of Town Topics: I wish to bring to your attention from my own experience the excellent work of S.A.V.E. - Small Animal Veterinary Endowment - for rescuing and seeking homes for the strayed and neglected animals who can not help themselves

I myself recently adopted a very nice dog I was very much impressed with the spacious and clean shelter for the animals and especially with the care and concern for the animals by Mrs. Jeanne Graves who is a member of S.A.V.E.

Mrs. Graves devotion to her work for the animals was evident when at my call she rightaway dropped everything at hand to take me to the shelter to show me a dog I was interested

The Princeton community and the surrounding area is very fortunate to have such a fine organization which is supported by people who are concerned with the welfare of lost animals and sees to that they are returned to their owners or go to good homes.

I hope that my letter to you will let other people know about S.A.V.E. of Princeton and make them adopt those healthy, affectionate and wonderful four-legged "orphans" Thank you very much. MRS. G.M. BERZKALNS Hopewell Weekend Prices Higher.

To the Editor of Town Topics: In your January 30 issue, we noted a small article about "Murder on the Orient Express," which included an interview with Mr. Knight, the manager of the Princeton Playhouse where the film is showing. We noted with pleasure the following sentence, "Because it cost more to get, Mr. Knight explained, evening prices are up to $3 and matinee performances are $1.50 instead of $1." We planned to go today, Sunday, to the matinee.

Arriving at the theatre, we saw only the standard "All seats $3" sign at the ticket booth, and, on inquiring, were told that TOWN TOPICS had written that article with no real information and that the price was in fact $3. Since generally matinee prices are less than normal prices, the theatre should have had a sign up explaining that this was not a regular matinee, especially since it is certain that other people had been misled as we were.

When we asked the man who looked like the manager to put a sign on the door stating the price so that people would not be further misled, he said, "Let them find out when they get in here." Obviously the theatre was enjoying the large number of people who had been lured in by the false advertising and misrepresentation of the facts.

This was perhaps caused by careless reporting on the part of TOWN TOPICS, in which case a correction and apology should be printed this week, February 6. The theatre is even more in the wrong, however, and would not fare well in a talk with any Consumer Affairs or Fair Business Bureau on this situation. We hope that it will not occur again.

VIRGINIA FARRAR
MICHAEL TERGIS

Editor's Note: From Friday evening through Sunday, manager Knight reports it is $3 for every performance of

WOODCUTS ON EXHIBIT

At N.J. National Bank. A portfolio of eight black and white woodcuts of American Indians hand-cut by Werner Drewes will be on display during the month of February at the New Jersey National Bank of Princeton, 194 Nassau Street.

The woodcuts depict frontal and profile portraits of Indians from eight different tribes—the Sioux, Kickapoo, Cree, Cheyenne, Apache, Osage, Sauk, and Blackfoot. The 73-year old Drewes describes them as "a purely personal interpretation of character studies of different tribes as seen by early artists. They try to show the impact of certain pictures I have seen and the realization of images I dreamt of when I read my first Indian stories as a boy."

The dignity of the portraits confirms Drewes' admission that "those dreams were of heroic figures and deeds and helped to keep alive my deep interest in the culture of the American Indians." Drewes, who has presented more than 45 one-man shows during his lifetime, printed this portfolio in 1973.

It is done in a signed edition of 50 printed on Kochi paper and published by the International Print Society, New Hope. The portfolio covered in a grey sailcloth with a statement by the artist costs $400.

2 LECTURES PLANNED

On Pearlman Collection. The Art Museum and the Department of Art and Archaeology of Princeton University will present two illustrated lectures, open to the public, one Monday, February 24, and one Thursday, March 6, in conjunction with the current exhibition of the Henry Pearlman Collection at the Museum.

Each lecture will be at 8 p.m. in McCormick Hall 101, to the left of the Museum's inside entrance, followed by an informal reception in the Museum.

On February 24, George Heard Hamilton will speak on "Can One Know All About Impressionism and Still Not Understand What It Means?" Dr. Hamilton is Director of the Clark Art Institute and Professor of Art at Williams College.

On March 6, Jeremy Gilbert-Rolfe's subject will be "Nature and the Institution: Some Speculative Observations on Cezanne's Technique." Mr. Gilbert-Rolfe is a painter and a member of the faculty of the Visual Arts Program at Princeton University.

The Pearlman collection includes one of the largest and finest groups of Cezanne watercolors in either public or private collections, as well as paintings, watercolors, drawings, and sculptures by van Gogh, Degas, Toulouse-Lautrec, Soultain, and other modern masters. The collection will be exhibited through Sunday, March 16.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 15 cents.

Children may come one or both days a week, but enrollment must be on a regular basis. Arts and crafts, games, trips to the park, and gymnastics will be included in the program.

Mrs. Cathy Green, who has a degree in early childhood education and was head teacher of the Princeton Nursery School kindergarten program, will be in charge of the activities. Mrs. Nancy Scott, administrator of the Nassau Cooperative Nursery School, is helping to get the program under way.

"A Great Fete" is off to a great start, according to Co-Chairmen Mrs. William C. Mitchell and Mrs. Richard D. Seiler. Addressing this year's Activity Chairmen at the initial meeting for the event, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Seiler spoke of the work ahead to make the 22nd annual fete of The Princeton Medical Center a success.

Unveiled at the meeting was this year's "GREAT" mascot—an elephant. This appealing pachyderm will appear on fete posters all over town as the date for the event draws near.

Also known as "The June Fete", this year's array of shops, prizes and fun will actually take place on May 31. "But it's still the 'June Fete' to us," commented Mrs. Mitchell, and Mrs. Seiler added, "After 21 years of success in raising money for The Medical Center, we can't just throw away our name!"

But with the May 31st date a scant four months away, everyone realized that work on the Fete—a mammoth amount—had to get under way. Serving as secretaries this year are Mrs. Wendell Breithaupt and Mrs. Ralph H. Mather. Treasurers are Mrs. William R. Shillaber, Jr. and Archie Lummis.

Other Assignments, Mrs. G. Peter Savidge and Mrs. Peter H. Soderberg will be in charge of Children's Activities; Mrs. Lee C. Cleveland and Mrs. George L. Wirtz are in charge of decorating; and food will be supervised by Mrs. James C. Blair and Mrs. John C. C. Byrne.

In charge of this year's Lane of Shops are Mrs. Arthur H. Ackerman and Mrs. Wayne R. Carney. Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Jeffers will supervise the garden attractions, and Mrs. Raymond Wolfe, photography. Mrs. Frederick H. Landmann is in charge of the Program, with Program Solicitation headed by Mrs. J. Jay Cassen and Mrs. Colson H. Hilber. Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Warnock are Communications chairmen.

Entertainment at the Great Fete is being organized by Mrs. Hugh Lambert and Mrs. Roger V. Moseley. Friday night activities are the task of Mrs. James R. Bergman and Mrs. Donald V. Reed.

Peter Hagens and Steven Stupak are in charge of Exhibitions; Linens are the domain of Mrs. William F. W. Jones, Jr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Kolosek; Staging chairmen are Mrs. John H. Dumont and Mrs. William R. Schowalter; Rev. Ronald Dyson and Mr. Adolf Herst will handle the Midway.

Publicity is being handled by Mrs. R. W. Baker, Jr., and Security and Parking by Mrs. Joseph F. Crowley. Mrs. Robert B. Harvey and Mrs. John R. Thompson.

The Fete Auction, always full of surprises, has as its chairmen Mrs. Peter F. Groff, Mrs. Eugene M. Haring, Mrs. James A. Love and Mrs. Francis M. Bushnell. They remind everyone that the Auxiliary will not sponsor a spring rummage sale this year, but that all of the "goodies" saved over the winter would be welcomed for the auction or for the Lane of Shops.

CO-CHAIRMEN: Mrs. William C. Mitchell (left) and Mrs. Richard D. Seiler are in charge of the 22d annual fete, which will be staged this year for the benefit of the Princeton Medical Center on May 31.

In which sport do you think the biggest percentage of athletes make over $100,000 a year? Answer is pro basketball, where reportedly over 25 percent of all players in the American & National Basketball Associations make more than $100,000 a season.

Here's one that may surprise you...Which is the only football bowl game in history that has had a capacity crowd every year of its existence? The answer is the Fiesta Bowl in Phoenix...Every bowl has had seats that were not sold at some point in their history—except the Fiesta Bowl.

It's easy to guess which three players have hit the most home runs in major league baseball history—Hank Aaron, Babe Ruth and Willie Mays—but who ranks No. 4 and No. 5? The man who has hit the fourth most homers in history, after Aaron, Ruth and Mays, is Frank Robinson, and the man who now ranks No. 5 on the all-time big league homer list is Harmon Killebrew.

Here's an oddity...The name of the award that baseball gives to the top pitcher every year is the "Cy Young Award"—yet, did you know that Cy Young himself LOST more games than any other pitcher in big league baseball history? Young lost 315 games and no one else is close to that.

Old Refrain, "Always a Bridesmaid, Never a Bride," Returns To Haunt Tiger Quintet as Second-Place Finish Looms Again

Princeton's basketball team lost two of its three games last week, Pennsylvania won three out of three, and the 1975 Ivy race promptly fell into the pattern it has known for the past five seasons: seven other teams chasing the Quakers in vain.

On the identical New England road trip, the Tigers got by Yale but stumbled at Brown, whereas the defending champions had the defensive skills to subdue the Bruins, 73-67, after trailing by seven earlier in the game. Next night, Penn put Yale in its hip pocket and faces stiff competition in its remaining eight league games only against Brown in the Palestra on March 1, the last night of the season.

Princeton will be at home this weekend to two of the weaker Ivies, Cornell on Friday, Columbia on Saturday. Between them, this pair has managed only seven victories in 34 games played—two of them at the expense of each other.

Maynard Brown, a 6-6 forward, is Cornell's top scorer, averaging a fine 22 points and collecting 36 against Columbia for one of the high marks recorded by a Big Red player in the past decade. However, in contrast to his ability to make it into double figures virtually every game this year, only Tod McLuskey of the other 11 on the squad is averaging better than 10 points.

Columbia, off the basketball map since the golden days of Jim MacMillan and Hayward Dolsen of the late '60s, occasionally starts three sophomores and appears destined to replace Cornell as the league's eighth-place inhabitant. Captain Mark Hardaway is the Lions' top player but has been an inconsistent scorer after taking an early lead in the Ivy's individual race.

Following this weekend's game at Jadwin, Princeton will return to New England for the annual Harvard-Dartmouth trip, then make the swing to Columbia and Cornell, and return to Jadwin at the end of the month for games with Brown and Yale. The Tigers have the ability to win them all if they want them.

Rumors of Carril Resignation Unfounded

A report that originated in Midweek News last week triggered rumors that Pete Carril, Princeton's basketball coach since 1967 might not renew his contract when it expires this year. It was reported that he would be replaced by John Powers, University of Wisconsin coach who is concluding his relationship with the Badgers.

Questioned about the possibility in New Haven Friday night, Carril said he had made no decision to leave. Director of Athletics Royce Flippin said no change in basketball coaches is under consideration.

Over a period of more than seven years, Carril has recorded better than two victories for every defeat at Princeton. The Tigers invariably play one of the toughest schedules faced by a college basketball team, despite the restrictions imposed by Ivy League standards which ban athletic scholarships and the use of freshmen.

He has achieved two first-place Ivy finishes and in 1969 became the first coach to guide his team to a 14-0 mark in Ivy competition. While the estimate must be based on opinion rather than fact, belief is widespread that he has produced more with the material available to him than any coach at Princeton in the past decade.

enough, and Carril-coached teams usually do, even when first place is all but mathematically gone.

Yale Fades Early. Off its 85-83 upset victory over Brown a week earlier, Yale was eyeing a possible setback of Princeton, which it rarely beats in basketball in the past decade, 11 of 20 games have gone to the Tigers. But the score at halftime at New Haven was 35-first period but had this pared to 32-31 just before the buzzer. With 11:24 to go, Brown had moved in front by 51-45 but a 10-5 burst by the visitors in the next five minutes shaved their deficit to 56-55.

Brown again took charge, leading 60-55 as the clock began to run out but the Tigers narrowed the gap to 60-59 with Princeton, 19 Yale, eliminating all doubt over the outcome before the intermission had been reached.

Much of the credit went to co-captain Mickey Steurer, who held the losers' line guard, Steve Switchenko, scoreless for the first 20 minutes. The 6-4 southpaw had been the architect of the Brown upset with a 27-point performance, but Steurer shut him out in the first half and allowed him only three meaningless baskets thereafter.

A string of 15 unanswered points during the final nine minutes of the first period broke the game open. Fifty-two percent shooting by the Orange and Black and a rebound edge of 30-34 were other principal factors, as the Elis were held to 32 percent from the floor.

Barnes Hamphrre with 14, Tim Van Blommesteijn with 13 and Armond Hill with a dozen paced the Princeton attack. It was a 62-50 final.

Two in a Row at Providence. Over the years, Princeton has defeated Brown more often than any team in the league, holding a 40-to-6 margin in the series with the Bruins going into Saturday's game at Providence. But the home team's 62-61 triumph matched its double overtime success against the Tigers there a year ago, serving as a major gravestone to Princeton's Ivy title hopes for the second year in a row.

The Orange and Black held a seven-point lead during the

1 of 10 to go. The edge that proved insurmountable was provided with 45 seconds left when the home team grabbed three straight rebounds off its own board, the last producing a basket and a three-point lead.

A last second layup by Steiner was inadequate, leaving 2,000 fans in Marvel Gymnasium distinctly ecstatic. The Tigers again shot well (54 percent to 44 percent for Brown) but much of the story was told in Brown's rebound edge of 35-27. The Bruins also put four men in double figures, in contrast to 21 for Hill and 11 for Hauptföhrer.

TIGERS TRAVEL AGAIN

Three Games Away for Skaters. After having played two consecutive games at home for the first time this season, Princeton's hockey team will be on the road again this weekend. The Tigers face Brown, one of three Ivy entries locked in a tie for second place, at Providence Friday and then play Yale at New Haven the following night.

They'll be at West Point Tuesday for their annual meeting with Army before an unusual string of five games begins in Baker Rink. From February 14 through the 22nd, Dartmouth, Harvard, Brown, New Hampshire and Cornell will all come here. (For a report on the game with Yale in Baker Rink this Tuesday night, see page 30.)

Prior to the contest with the Elis, Princeton's record was pegged at a lowly 3-8-1. The eighth defeat of the season came at Ithaca last week and the first tie was recorded Saturday night in the rink against Rensselaer Polytech.

The Tigers should have won the RPI contest. Twice—once as late as five minutes gone in the third period—they held two-goal leads, but the assistance to which goalie Mike O'Leary was entitled did not always materialize and the visitors deadlocked the contest at 5-5 with 4:05 to go. Nobody scored in the next 14 minutes, but it was O'Leary who twice preserved the tie for Princeton in the sudden-death session when he blocked breakaway shots fired at him from point blank range.

Two More for Stuckey. A pair of goals by Mark Stuckey, who continues to pace the Tigers' scoring, and two by defenseman Jim Damberger, kept the Tigers in control during most of the game. The visitors opened the action with a goal as early as 1:50 but Captain Brad Richards got his first of the winter a minute later when the home team was a man short. Defenseman Paul Dionne and wing Mike Bascomb set up Richards' solo tour on the breakaway.

Damberger's goal at the 11-minute mark in the opening round made it 2-1, Princeton, and after RPI tied the count with the middle round less than a minute old, Damberger and Stuckey both scored in the next five minutes to give the home team a 4-2 margin.

Near the end of this round, RPI got its third but Stuckey hit on a 40-foot shot 49 seconds before the buzzer and the 5-3 lead appeared to be the foundation for the Tigers' fourth victory of the year. The defensive lapses that have made life difficult all season erased that possibility.

In the extra round, Princeton had six shots on goal to the visitors four. RPI came closest to winning but O'Leary turned in a pair of saves which bordered on the spectacular. He deserved better than the 5-5 tie.

At Ithaca, Cornell's fading skaters, losers of three of their first five Ivy games this season for the first time in over a decade, yielded a pair of goals to Bruce Quackenbush and Mark Stuckey of the Tigers in the first five minutes. Five days earlier, the Red had lost an overtime game to Penn for its first defeat ever by the Quakers, and appeared to be in further trouble.

A Cornell goal before the first period ended was, however, timed by seven more. Before Princeton managed another by Craig Dahl to make it an 8-3 final. The Tigers thus ran their goals allowed total to 23 in their last three games.

Cornell's unanticipated problems and Harvard's ability to dominate Brown in both meetings with the Bruins have made a shambles of the race. The Crimson must still play Cornell again at Ithaca on February 19, but stands a good chance of winning all 12 of its Ivy games, a feat rarely accomplished in the well-balanced league.

PHS LOOKS SHARP

In Notre Dame Court Win. There is only one sour note about the sudden jelling of the Princeton High School basketball team: it has only four games left to play.

There is evidence from all sides that PHS has arrived following its impressive 67-52 victory over visiting Notre Dame Friday afternoon. "We're better as a unit, we're playing team ball," crowed coach Mary Trotman after the game. "We're not point hungry as we were before."

PHS placed five men in double figures for the first time this year to underline that this

Our button makes a point about inflation you can't afford to overlook. Ordinary returns on savings just won't do anymore. Inflation is chewing away at those savings, reducing the value of your hard earned dollars. You need every bit of earnings you can get on your savings. Every bit. You could spend it all to keep from losing value. Trouble is spending feeds inflation — and it leaves you with no security at all. First Jersey Savings is the answer. First Jersey Savings means saving as much as you can, securely — and earning as much as you can on those savings. First Jersey offers you the very most you can earn on insured savings. And First Jersey has consistently been first in increasing the return on savings whenever it was possible. First Jersey doesn't know how inflation will affect next year. But whatever happens, First Jersey Savings offers the best chance to beat the shrink.

was a team win. Previously, it never had more than three. The 67 points was also its top scoring effort of the season by seven.

Just three days earlier, PHS had played top-ranked Trenton High School even until the final five minutes before losing, 55-

49. "We had them on the ropes," said Trotman. St. Anthony's Next. The Little Tigers will next oppose St. Anthony's Tuesday evening at 8 on the Iron Mike's home court. After that, only games with Hamilton, Steinert and Hightstown remain on the regular season's schedule.

What has put the growl back in the Little Tigers? Besides the excellent defense and team play, Trotman spelled it out in two words, when asked "Junior Oldham."

Oldham, playing in his fifth game, scored 15 points before fouling out with 1:09 to go in the third period. He is deadly with a short jumper anywhere around the basket. Against the Irish, he scored 10 of Princeton's 13 points in the second period.

In the first half, PHS limited Notre Dame to just three baskets but it paid a price for its aggressive defense. The Irish converted 20 of 26 free throws to stay in contention at the half, 30-26.

Third Period Decisive. A basket by Pat Kahny with 4:45 left in the third period brought

IN NOTRE DAME GAME: Reserve Dave Lacey played in Princeton High's 67-52 victory over Notre Dame last week.

Notre Dame even at 32 all but that was the visitors' last threat. PHS broke the game open with a flurry of points after that: five by Pete Watson, four by Daryl Marshall and baskets by Oldham, Roland Alexander and Felix Brown to finish the period (2 up).

In the final period, ND tried to run with PHS but were destroyed by the fleet guard tandem of Marshall and Alexander who put on a show of stealing the ball and racing down court to score. The two accounted for all but two of the points PHS scored in surging from a 31-11 margin to a 65-41 lead.

Oldham finished with 15 points, this season's high followed by Marshall with 14, Watson 12, Alexander 11, and Brown 6. In Notre Dame's Joe Kale led all scorers with 18. Princeton's record is 17, Notre Dame's 8-7.

"I felt very good about our defense," said Trotman. "We're finally playing good defense instead of reaching and snatching."

Even though PHS was whistled for all those foul shots in the first half, Trotman reported that he felt his team was still in command of the ball game. "I never felt any threat of their taking over the game," he said. Still, to cut down on the fouls (Brown picked up his fourth with 5:49 left in the third period) Trotman, who uses a man-to-man defense almost exclusively, had his team play in zone.

Trenton Hard Pressed. Usually, the only interest in the PHS Trenton game, especially when it is played on the Tornadoes' home court, is how big the winning margin will be.

Trenton did win its 13th in 15 starts but only after it was able to connect for six straight points to take a 49-43 lead. Then after Daryl Marshall hit his tenth basket to bring PHS within four again with 58 seconds to go, Trenton's Arzaga Dillard tipped in a missed shot with 12 seconds left to tie the win for the home team. Earlier this season, Trenton had routed PHS, 80-46.

Marshall led all scorers with 20 while Dillard paced the Tornadoes with 12. Watson added 12, Oldham 11 and Brown 6 as these four accounted for all of Princeton's points.

"The outcome might have been different if a couple of tips that we missed had gone in," commented Trotman. He said that Trenton used its superior depth to wear the Little Tigers down.

Trenton won, but PHS won something, too: recognition of its gully performance that it is going to be tough from here on out. Ask Notre Dame.

PDS HOCKEY FALTERS

Two Big Games Lost by 4-3. Princeton Day School played four excellent periods of hockey last week, but a give-away period against both Hill and Lawrenceville was too much to overcome in a pair of 4-3 losses. The defeats ended the PDS record at 5-5, with a pair of games scheduled this week against Seton Hall at home and Rye Country Day away.

The Hill School, a 4-1 winner of an earlier encounter in Pottstown, jumped out to a 3-0 lead and then held on, especially in the third period when PDS was unable to convert several power play opportunities. Aubrey Huston, PDS coach, explained, "We gave them the three first period goals because of our failure to execute a new clearing play."

But Huston felt that PDS won the last two periods, with both sides taking roughly 20 shots on goal. Defensemen Bill McClellan proved his strength and talent on both defense and offense: twice digging the puck out from behind the Hill goal to assist on scores. The first time came with only 12 seconds remaining in the first period as McClellan fed Mark Zawadzky stationed on one corner of the goal who tipped it over to Mark Blackall at the other corner for the score.

McClellan did it again with only two minutes left in the game by feeding Tom Moore in front to cut the score to 4-3. Before that, PDS got a second period goal from Murray Wilmerding on a perfect shot off a pass from Zawadzky. But Hill deflected a long pass into the opposite side of the net.

ANOTHER MESSAGE TO FOREIGN CAR OWNERS

Are you missed something?

Perhaps it's just your car that is missing a part, or maybe a tune-up?

There is no need to suffer from bad service because you own and drive an imported car. Most parts can be readily obtained, particularly if the service store really understands imports. We own and operate imported cars, and were trained to service them in Europe.

We are big enough to have a properly equipped shop, but we are small enough to give you personal attention.

Why not call Robert Bart, (609) 695-2060, for an honest appraisal of your problem? He will try to put it all together for you.

early in the third period for the eventual winning goal.

Loss in Overtime. The Lawrenceville loss was even more of a heartbreaker, with the game decided by Bob Plumb's third goal of the game after 50 seconds of an overtime period.

The contest was an exciting, well-played battle before a big, noisy crowd at Lavino Rink of fans from both schools. They saw PDS shoot ahead 3-1 in the second period only to "give it away", according to Huston, in the third period. By the overtime session, PDS "didn't have any psych left", commented one of the players.

But PDS was psyched for two periods, outshooting the Larries by some ten shots in the first period, even though Lawrenceville went ahead on a pass deflected off a Plumb's skate. But thanks to tough forechecking by the Moore-Judge-Erdman line, PDS cashed in three pretty goals, two by Moore and one by Judge. Each of the line-mates also added an assist.

In the third session, Lawrenceville shifted one of its top players to defense, keeping PDS bottled up. The change helped force two PDS let-downs, one against a powerplay and the other which saw it carelessly lose the puck in front of the goal. Billy Erdman's back-checking was unable to stymie Plumb, the big wing opposite him, and a disappointed PDS returned home with a split in the series.

Bot PDS may have one more chance to beat the Larries in the PDS Invitational Tournament to be held February 21-21. PDS will play St. George's from Newport, Rhode Island, in the opener, while The Hill will meet Lawrenceville. Winners and losers will meet the next day.

Prior to the tournament, PDS faces a difficult challenge at Rye Country Day on Friday night. PDS lost to Rye early in the season, 5-2, but Huston feels now that "if we can contain two players and the influence of a noisy crowd, we've got them."

BUSY SCHEDULE AHEAD

For PDS Five, After having lost to arch-rival Lawrenceville, 49-38, in a tight, well-executed contest, the Princeton Day School basketball team will confront six teams in two weeks. Two of the games, with Admiral Farragut on Thursday and Solebury School on Monday, are make-ups of earlier postponements.

Contrary to his game plan against the Larries, coach Alan Taback said, "We couldn't control the tempo and

Snickenberger to Patriots

The player who was voted Most Valuable by the Ivy League coaches wasn't considered to be among the 412 best in the nation by the National Football League, but Walt Snickenberger will get a shot at playing with the pros anyway. Day after the Tiger running back, whose 115.9 yards per game ranked him 10th in the country last fall, was bypassed in the annual draft, he was offered a free-agent contract by the Boston Patriots.

The three Ivy players who ran behind Snick in the MVP voting were all drafted. Highest honors went to Harvard split end Pat McNally, who was selected on the fifth round by the Cincinnati Bengals. Yale running back Rudy Green was a 15th round pick of the Detroit Lions, while Eli quarterback Tom Doyle went to Oakland in the 14th round.

The other Ivies chosen in the draft were Yale guard Greg Dubinetz and teammate Elvin Charity, a defensive back, who will join McNally at Cincinnati, and Adolph "Beep Beep" Bellizeare of Penn, whose 5-9 frame will seek to prove with the Minnesota Vikings that the day of the small man is returning to pro football.

run the way we wanted to. Instead, we were patient, but didn't shoot very well."

Despite the poor shooting, the Panthers were down by just five at the half and four at the end of the third quarter. But then the PDS press, which had been effective earlier, allowed a few easy lay-ups to give Lawrenceville a commanding lead. And the Larries' superior height kept PDS from getting second shots.

For PDS, Randy Melville, with 13 points, played "by far his best game under pressure," commented Taback. Taback also cited Frank Konstantynowicz for his good defense in holding Lawrenceville's Sweeney nine points under his season average of 16. But Konstantynowicz could only contribute six points himself, while Bill Goldman had eight and Billy Martin added seven.

Six Games on Tap. The Panthers will not have another shot at Lawrenceville, but they will meet powerhouse Peddie, on Friday at 6:30 at home. Peddie, which beat the Larries quite handily in their only meeting, is tall and quick, fielding a starting line of 6'8", flanked by 6'6" and 6'5".

After Peddie, PDS will play Solebury, followed by Montclair Academy on Wednesday and West Windsor High School on Thursday. A game with Pennington was scheduled for Tuesday of this week.

3 MEETS IN 4 DAYS

For PHS Matmen, The Princeton High School wrestling team will engage in its busiest week of the season when it participates in three meets in four days. After this flurry, the Little Tigers will have only two dual meets left.

PHS will entertain West Windsor Saturday evening at 8 and will be at Peddie Monday afternoon in Hightstown and at Lawrence Wednesday evening at 8. This Wednesday evening at 8, it was scheduled to play host to undefeated Hopewell Valley.

Saturday's match against West Windsor will for some be a homecoming. One reason why the Little Tigers are suffering through their worst season ever is the emergence of West Windsor High School. Several standout wrestlers such as Rich and Chris Holcombe, who PHS coach Tom Murray would have had in his lineup, are now wrestling for the Pirates. It left gaps that Murray has not been able to fill with experienced wrestlers. PHS is currently 1-7.

Lose to Steinert, 37-15. Last week, PHS won four of 12 bouts in losing a 37-15 match to Steinert, which, like Hopewell Valley, is undefeated against county schools. Steinert won the first three and last three bouts.

PHS, in defeat, could point to two things: Peter Coffin engineered the fastest pin of the evening when he flattened Steinert's Bob Mullen in 1:14 in the 129 pound class, and Dave Robinson of PHS won a lopsided 11-2 decision over Wayne Overton, the Spartans' highly-rated 122-pounder, who lost only the second time this season.

Robinson, who began the season as a 106 pounder but has had problems making weight, was wrestling for the first time at 122.

Greg Robinson won a 9-2 decision over Jim Becker of Steinert in the 135 pound class, and Fred Eiker, the team's steadiest performer this year, captured a 4-0 decision in the 158-pound class.

Tom Cawley, 101 pounder, Bob Ellis (115) and heavyweight Ray Brower of PHS all suffered pins.

TWO EASY WINS

For Hun School Quintet, Easy wins over Solebury and George School last week enabled the Hun School basketball team to increase its record to 11-5.

The caliber of the competition will go up a couple notches this week, however. Friday evening at 8, Hun will play host to Germantown Friends, co-leader in the Penn-

Jersey Southern division, and Wednesday it will be at Perkiomen. Hun coach Dave Leete predicted the contest with Germantown "will be a real tough game."

This Wednesday, Hun was scheduled to oppose Rutgers Prep, another strong team which lost a close game to Lawrenceville School last week.

All 12 of Hun's varsity squad saw action against visiting Solebury last week and 10 of them scored as Hun coasted to a 74-55 victory. In double figures for Hun were Ron Payton, 18; Tony Trani, 14; and Nick Brady, 12. Hun led 58-34 after three periods.

Earlier in the week, Hun hit on 53 percent of its shots to defeat George School (4-4) in a freewheeling contest, 95-81.

Trani added to his 1,000-plus career total with 21 points, followed by Payton who had 17 and led Hun in rebounds with nine. Brady added 11.

Leete commented that Kevin Rafalski came off the bench to play a good game both offensively and defensively. Rafalski had eight points, while starters Mike Trojanovitch and Terry McEwen combined for 15 more.

BUSINESS In Princeton

VICE-PRESIDENT NAMED
At Squibb. The Board of Directors of Squibb Corporation has elected Martin H. Schmidt of Rolling Hill Road, Skillman, to the new position of vice president, management services.

He joined E. R. Squibb in 1965 as director of physical distribution. He served as vice president, management information and special projects, and as vice president of administration before becoming president of Squibb Pacific in 1970.

Mr. Schmidt was manager of administrative services at Arthur Andersen & Company before joining Squibb. A native New Yorker, he received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Manhattan College in 1951. He also studied at Columbia University Graduate School of Industrial Engineering and New York University Graduate School of Business.

BAPTISTS CITE HOBLER
For Radio Achievements. The Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission has honored Herbert W. Hobler, founder and president of the Nassau Broadcasting Company, with an Abe Lincoln Award nomination for his editorial challenges to the Fairness Doctrine and the Equal Time Law. Mr. Hobler operates stations WHWH in Trenton and WPST in Princeton.

The nomination cites him for "an aggressive use of radio editorials exposing what he considered unfair and impractical governmental regulations on the broadcasting industry". Two winners will be announced from among the 11 nominees on February 13 in Fort Worth, Texas, in a show to be broadcast a week later by ABC-TV on its "Directions" program.

Mr. Hobler challenged the Federal Communications Doctrine in the fall of 1973, when 12 legally-qualified candidates announced for the New Jersey governor's office. Both WHWH and WPST provided a prime-time two minute session weekly for each of the 12 candidates to respond to a question a week.

Then the stations endorsed a total of 46 candidates for the elections, using a total of 14 minutes of air-time in some 14 announcements. These endorsements made the stations liable for 395 minutes of response time under the Fairness Doctrine and the Equal Time Law.

Sticking to the letter of the two regulations, the stations' regular staff operations and programming was upset for weeks, particularly the week before elections. Mr. Hobler concluded, "It also cost more than $10,000, and demonstrated that, in truth, it is almost impossible for a radio or TV station to be journalistically responsible while adhering to the Fairness Doctrine and the Equal Time Law, which also denies the public real exposure to the principal candidates."

The experience was documented in a 100-page report mailed to broadcasters and U.S. Senators. The document has led to cooperation between Mr. Hobler and the FCC in seeking corrective actions.

'BULLISH' ON CLOTHES

At the Marketplace. In these days of economic recession a report of someone doing well practically becomes news in itself. One such report has been received from Arthur and Bernard Seeman, owners of the Clothes Closet and the Marketplace shopping center on Route 27 north of Kingston.

The Marketplace is profiting in the current economic climate, according to Arthur Seeman, because shoppers are willing to drive to its out-of-the-way location to take advantage of its discount prices. "People want better things but prices today on quality merchandise are outrageous," said Mr. Seeman. "Most of us have gotten used to being able to buy quality made clothes at a price we could afford."

"But this situation exists no longer."

The Clothes Closet is able to sell top-name brands, Mr. Seeman said, by going to mills directly and by buying over-cuttings and sample lines from brand manufacturers. He said the store buys a smaller percentage of selected imports—“We never buy seconds.”

In these hard times, Mr. Seeman said, “people are not turning to low-end discounters but to medium-to-high priced discounters because they are accustomed to better goods. Also, they realize you don't save money when you buy a cheaply-made article. The fit isn't right and it soon wears out.”

No ‘Final’ Sales. Bernard Seeman attributed part of the store's recent success to its policies covering clearance sales. “Did you ever see a typical clothing sale advertisement—all sales final, broken sizes, no credit cards? Usually, the article you want is not on sale. The mark-downs always look like mark-downs.”

“Our January sale was jammed,” he added. “We reduced every single item in the store by one-third. And that included such staples as socks, underwear and ties. What other store does that?”

Mr. Seeman also pointed out that the Clothes Closet's sales are not final sales. “We have a two-day sale policy for full refund,” he said. “We believe if you make all sales final many people are hesitant to buy something.” At other times the store's normal refund time is 10 days.

The Seemans reported that, rather than cutting back their advertising and promotion budgets, they have recently doubled their advertising.

The Marketplace owners said that the other women's shops in the shopping center, including the Place, Fashion Deck, Cogito, Bare Necessities and the Gold Mine, are also recording brisk sales. “A woman will travel many more miles when there are more than one store to shop in,” Bernard Seeman said.

EXHIBIT OPENS

Of Patent History. The Princeton Public Library will offer a patent exhibit from now through February 17 sponsored by the N.J. Patent Law Association in coordination with the U.S. Patent Office.

The three sections of the display will deal with the history of the U.S. patent system, the modern patent system, and patents developed by Princeton area firms and inventors. New Jersey ranks third behind California and New York in the total number of patents issued to residents during 1972, and the Princeton area ranks first within New Jersey in patents per person per year.

Of the approximately 10,000 active patent attorneys and agents in the U.S., there are 59 working for companies with Princeton addresses. The exhibit is designed to demonstrate how these companies use the patent system.

Represented in the exhibit are:

Princeton Chemical Research, Inc.; Princeton Nurseries; E. R. Squibb and Sons, Inc.; John F. Killea, Jr.; Hans Lechner; Charles Fischer; F. M. C. Corporation; E. M. R. Photoelectric; The Digital Equipment Corporation; Fifth Dimension, Inc.; Joel B. Johnson; Western Electric; R. C. A.; The Rosenblat Corporation; Dr. George R. Brown; Dr. Richard G. Woodbridge, III; Aero-Chem; Princeton Polymer Laboratories; Mobile Research and Development Corporation; Robert M. Englebrecht and Associates and Marshall P. Sittig.

VICE-PRESIDENT NAMED

By Princeton Bank and Trust. William C. Askin, a former operations officer, has been elected vice-president of operations and treasurer of the Princeton Bank and Trust Co.

Prior to joining the Princeton bank, Mr. Askin was associated for 11 years with Fidelity Union Trust Company in Newark. He is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, the New Jersey Banker's Association Data Processing School and the School for Bank Administration.

William C. Askin brought them even on a picturesque breakaway while the Tigers were shorthanded. Rick Friesz put them in front at 15:15 but the Blue made it 2-1 at 17:24.

Two goals by junior Dunc Fisher in the second period gave the Orange and Black the lead again as goalie Mike O'Leary held the Elis scoreless. Captain Brad Richards fed Fisher for his first at 5:39, and ten minutes later a power play added to the Princeton margin. This time, defenseman Jim Damberger started the action and Stuckey set up Fisher from 20 feet out on the left of the Elis goal.

SHOWDOWN APPROACHES

In Recreation Basketball. Joint Effort and Bill Brown and Company continued their unbeaten march towards a championship showdown by defeating Ivy Inn and Perks Construction respectively in Adult League play last week. Joint Effort and Bill Brown will meet February 26 at 7:45 in the last game of the season preceding the playoffs.

Joint Effort survived a scare by Ivy Inn in overcoming an eight-point half-time deficit to win, 69-66. Ivy still had a four-point lead in the final two minutes but Al Burton's jump shot and John Bailey's foul shot took the game away from Ivy. Ivy was led by Arthur Midgett with 18 points, Houston Hinson with 22 points and Mike Maguire with 16 points. Bob Slaughter had 17 to top Joint Effort, which thus upped its record to 6-0.

Bill Brown and Company stayed a half-game behind with a 5-0 record by outclassing an undersized Perks Construction team, 81-57. Bill

The YWCA Looks at IRS

The YWCA will offer two special income tax sessions designed especially for women. Taught by Lucy Lowrance, emphasis will be placed on the hows and whats of filling out tax returns, hidden deductions, exemptions and in general solving the confusion of a return.

To be held at the YWCA on Avalon Place, the course will run from 8-10 p.m. on Wednesdays, February 12 and 19. Register before February 11 at the YWCA office. The fee for the course is $2.

AN UNUSUAL STORE-Y: Bernard Seeman, left, and his brother, Arthur Seeman, report brisk sales at the Marketplace, the shopping center they own on Route 27, and at the Clothes Closet, a women's apparel store they own in the Marketplace. The Clothes Closet is billed as “a most unusual store” and the Marketplace as “an unusual concept.” Both apparently are living up to their reputation in these days of economic recession.

“Save Dinky” Workshop

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a “Rail Abandonment Workshop” and luncheon next Tuesday at the Nassau Inn to discuss the social and economic impact of discontinuing the Dinky's service.

Samuel Buffone, Office of Public Counsel, Washington, D.C., will conduct the workshop in order to assist Princeton rail users to develop relevant data for presentation to the U.S. Railway Association. The session will last from noon to 2.

The cost of the luncheon is $5 per person and firm reservations must be made by Friday.

CAN ISRAEL SURVIVE?

Subject of Lecture Series. The first of a new six-lecture series on the theme "Israel: A Question of Survival" will be presented at the Jewish Center Tuesday at 9. In Tuesday's lecture, "A Historical Perspective," Alan Mallach will discuss how events from the early beginnings of Zionism to the establishment of the State of Israel in 1948 set the stage for today's conflicts.

Mr. Mallach a graduate of Yale University and a former Assistant Dean of Livingston College, lived in Israel for several years. He worked with several political parties there and studied the historical influence of changing social patterns.

The lectures in this new series will be given on consecutive Tuesdays at 9 p.m. The community is invited to attend and to contribute to the discussions. They are organized by the Adult Education Committee of the Jewish Center and open to all without charge.

A selection of courses on Jewish ethics, beliefs, and literature is also being offered on Tuesday evenings immediately preceding the lecture series, and there are Sunday and Tuesday morning classes. A schedule of all courses is available at the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street, 924-5493.

SERVICE PLANNED

For Ash Wednesday. A community Ash Wednesday communion service will be held in the youth center of the Presbyterian Church of Lawrenceville next Wednesday at 8. The three Presbyterian churches of Lawrence Township—Slackwood, Lawrence Road, and Lawrenceville—will join together in an observance of the first day of Lent.

The service is a new approach to the traditions of fasting and self-examination that are a part of the Lenten season in the Christian church. Through a series of litanies, dialogues, hymns, and prayers, the participants will prepare for communion as they identify with the contemporary food and population problem in the world.

The communion will be celebrated by the ministers of the three churches, Floyd Fletcher, Norman Kindt, and Dana Fearon. Elders of the three congregations will distribute the communion to the people.

SEMINAR PLANNED

On Creative Expression. Scottish poet George Bruce, professor of creative writing at the University of Glasgow, will lead an unscheduled seminar entitled "Providence and Imagination" at Princeton Seminary's Center of Continuing Education on February 14 and 15.

Clergy and laity will be encouraged to work on creative expression, drawing from the richness of literature. Special attention will be given to the works of Melville, Kafka, Beckett and Rilke, and to a scenario on "Huckleberry Finn." Dr. Jack Cooper, Director of the Center said, "This is the type of seminar which gives new insight and sparkle to your sermonizing and background reading—something that your wife or husband can enjoy with you."

Dr. Bruce, who is an elder of the session of St. Giles Church, Edinburgh, was in charge of the BBC Scottish Division art programs for both radio and television from 1966 to 1971. He has published four books of poetry and is represented in numerous anthologies.

Attendance is limited to 30. Those interested in participating are urged to register immediately. Contact: the Reverend Jack Cooper, Director, Center of Continuing Education, Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton.

BROTHERHOOD IS THEME

Of Month-long Activities. The Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church has established the month of February as "Brotherhood Month" by planning several special activities celebrating this theme.

For each of the next three Sundays, the Rev. Dr. John H. Satterwhite, the associate general secretary of the Consultation on Church Union (COCU), will lead discussions on the theme of brotherhood with members of both the Nassau and Witherspoon Street congregations. Dr. Satterwhite will use as a resource the book entitled "Is God a White Racist?" This book can be purchased in paperback at the Theological Book Agency at Princeton Seminary or at the Princeton University Book Store.

The discussions will be held in the Parish House of the Witherspoon Church from 9:30 to 10:30 beginning this Sunday. Last week, the Rev. Dr. Wallace Alston Jr. of the Nassau Presbyterian Church preached the sermon for the Witherspoon Street service.

BUILDING FUND BEGINS

At Calvary Baptist. The Calvary Baptist Church of Hopewell will launch a campaign this Sunday to raise funds for the renovation of the church and parsonage. A campaign goal of $35,000 has been set, of which $3,400 has already been donated by the Ladies Aid and various individuals.

Parishioners may make their pledges in church on each of the next three Sundays by filling out pledge cards in sealed envelopes. Pledges will extend over a three year period, payable weekly, monthly or as convenient.

The work to be financed includes a new slate roof on the sanctuary, a new asphalt shingle roof on the parsonage, removal of the steeple and preparation of the roof for possible addition of a new steeple at a later date (not covered by the campaign), mooting of the bell in the church yard, and painting of both the church and parsonage.

BULLETIN NOTES

"For the Love of Fred", a popular children's film, will be shown this Saturday at 11 in Pierce Hall, Trinity Church, to benefit the Trinity-All Saints Nursery School Scholarship fund. The movie is by the puppeteers Paul and Mary Ritt of Princeton, who will be present beforehand with some of their puppets.

The film is about a caterpillar who wants to spin a cocoon but doesn't know how. Tickets are available at Hult's or at the door for $1.

OBITUARIES

Richard V. Lindabury, 74, of Route 1, Princeton, an editor and educator who served two terms as president of the Poetry Society of America, died February 3 of a heart attack aboard the Caribbean cruise ship M-S Istra near Trinidad. Mr. Lindabury was also a former instructor and lecturer at Princeton University.

Born in Bernardsville, he lived for many years on Cleveland Lane before moving several years ago to his last address, the Millstone River Apartments. He was graduated from the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., in 1917 and received his B.A. degree Phi Beta Kappa from Princeton University in 1921. He earned his M.A. degree in 1923 and his Ph.D. in 1930, also from Princeton.

He was an instructor in the English Department of Princeton University from 1922 to 1925, and 1927 to 1929, and lecturer in that department from 1945 to 1946. He was the author of "A Study of Patriotism in the Elizabethan Drama" published in 1930.

During World War II, Mr. Lindabury served with the Foreign Nationalities Bureau of the Office of Strategic Services in Washington. He was associate editor of Colliers Encyclopedia from 1946 to 1950. From 1952 to 1956 he was an editorial writer for the Herald Tribune in New York, serving as that paper's poetry editor from 1956 to 1957.

Interests Varied Widely. He was editor of the Proceedings of the New Jersey Historical Society from 1959 to 1967 and was trustee emeritus of that society. During 1961-1962 he was an associate professor of English at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Brown demonstrated a strong running and passing game with outstanding offensive rebounding by Frank Scott and Joe Brokaw, who had 19 and 21 points respectively.

Dennis Wilson managed 26 points, mostly on opportunistic lay-ups, to top Perks' Mark Baldwin, with 24, for scoring honors. The loss dropped Perks to a 4-3 record and fourth in the standings, just behind Lyons Seafood at 5-2.

Conte's moved into a tie for fifth with the Boro Bandits, Polytechnic Institute, and both with 3-4 records, by Princeton University. He was crushing the Outcasts, 85-43, a graduate of MIT, Class of Bill McQuade, with 32 points in 1913, and served with the and many steals, was out-Eleven Engineers in World War I.

PHS BOWS TO EWING

As 3 Starters Foul Out. Excessive fouling, which has hung around the Princeton High School basketball team like an albatross all season, dragged the Little Tigers down again Tuesday afternoon as visiting Ewing (8-7) triumphed, 64-54. Ewing enjoyed a 21-4 advantage at the foul line.

Twenty-eight violations were whistled against the Little Tigers, sending first Felix Brown and then Pete Watson to the bench still in the third quarter, followed by Junior Oldham with 3:12 left to play. The loss caused PHS' record to dip to 3-8.

PHS never trailed in the first half, taking a 27-25 margin into the locker room. But Ewing scored the first three baskets of the second half to go ahead and was never behind. The visitors' 6-4 center Bob Potts then personally guaranteed his team's victory by scoring 13 of his game-high 33 points in the third quarter. Ewing finished the period up by 10.

"We're down 10; that ain't much. He tough. Hang in there. Play defense," coach Marv Trotman exhorted the Blue and White, but the damage had been done. PHS twice narrowed the gap to seven and at one time seemed to have cut it to five, 48-43, but Roland Alexander was ruled to be traveling when his long shot from the side dropped in the net.

Randy Bullock led PHS in scoring for the first time with 17. Daryl Marshall had 12, Oldham 9 and Alexander 8.

Two more cozy bedrooms, bath and laundry are tucked away behind the truly spectacular kitchen, with its modern working space and separate skylighted sitting room complete with Delhi tile bordered fireplace! Hillside House Simply stated, one of Princeton's most unique houses in a superb location. Built into the side of the hill next door to the Pretty Brook Club, the original owner and his architect spared no expense - native stone and clapboard, slate roof, and special features such as a ballustrade porch off the living room over a flagstone terrace, imported antique panelling, delft-tiled fireplaces, and many more. The interior plan, perhaps not quite right for a large family with growing children, still is most versatile and different. The central level includes an entry hall, living room off the balcony, stepdown dining room with bow window, small study, full bath and kitchen. On the lower level, lovely paneled master bedroom with fireplace, bath and second bedroom. A guest bedroom and bath is on the upper level, and a fourth bedroom with its own bath over the two car garage provides a great student hideaway, au-pair accomodation, or rental option. Surrounding the house are 3½ acres of exceptional grounds with complete privacy only 3 miles from Palmer Square. Inside and out, all is in excellent condition, the house is newly decorated, and the appliances up-to-date, including central air conditioning. $142,000.

Rolling Hill Road

Near the rolling fairways of the Bedens Brook Club, an unusually spacious Colonial with every modern appointment imaginable. Wide central hall, huge stepdown living room, separate dining room, study with wetbar, lovely solarium porch - 31 feet long, family room with beams adjoining, a most efficient kitchen. Upstairs, five large bedrooms, three baths, tremendous closet space full bath. Many extras including wall to wall carpeting, central vacuum and air conditioning systems, burglar alarm, four fireplaces. Three car garage with electric door opener. $225,000

Battle Road

This sturdy brick Tudor with slate roof and interesting half timber motif fits perfectly on this quiet sycamore lined Township street. Flagstone entry and center hall. Cypress paneled living room and dining rooms, small study, sunporch, kitchen. Five bedrooms, three baths, plus finished room and storage on third. Two car garage, new furnace. Lovely half acre lot with mature planting. $138,500.

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP

An attractive, well-kept rancher, which will reduce housekeeping to a minimum. There are 6 bright rooms. The living room has a fireplace; there is a separate dining room, and the kitchen features built-in cabinet space galore and a generous eating area.

The sleeping area (three bedrooms and two baths) is quietly isolated from living activities; the master area is again separate and has its private bath. Both baths are complete with the master bath having a spacious shower area.

The heated garage easily stores two full sized cars and has additional space for hobbies. The lot abounds with mature plantings and trees. This excellent offering is immediately available and priced most realistically at $45,000.
